MAINE

The Pine Tree State Carried by the Republicans, as Usual.

Figures Are Incomplete, But the Plurality is Close to 50,000.

All the Republican Congressmen Were Re-elected by Increased Votes.

Portland, Me., Sept. 15.—The returns from the small towns and plantations in distant parts of the state are,
as usual, coming in very slowly, and it is not probable that all of them will be heard from before tomorrow. The counties and towns which poll more than two-thirds of the entire vote of the state indicate, however, that the Republican plurality will be between 48,000 and 50,000,
the largest in the history of the state.

In every county in the state, the Republican ticket was successful, and almost every town showed a Republican gain. The Democratic vote is about 40 per cent less than in 1892. About 20 per cent of this has gone to the Republican ticket and the balance to the Prohibition and the Independent tickets.

About 26 per cent.
The vote from 300 out of 519 cities, towns and plantations is 69,921 for Powers and 27,143 for Frank. In the last election in 1894, when Claves was elected by the then unprecedented majority of 40,000, these towns gave the Republican ticket 36,409 and the Democratic ticket 24,220. In 1892 it was a plurality of 2913 this year. Considering the GOVERNOR-ELECT POWERS.

vote of the missing towns two years ago,
if this proportion of gain is kept up, the total vote is estimated at 141,000 in round numbers. Republican, 83,160; Democrats, 34,340; scattering, 6500. Republican plurality, 48,520.
Anything more than a rough estimate of the plurality, based on the figures of last year's missing towns is impossible in the first congressional district. Reed's plurality is 10,566; Dingley has about 10,000. In the second district, Reed has 12,000 in the third, there are more missing towns in the district than in the figures at hand it is estimated that Boutelle's plurality will be almost 15,000.

In the representative districts heard from the election of but five Democrats in the house shown and in one of these there is doubt. All of the thirty-one senators are Republicans.

Completed Counties.

They Show a Strong Republican Vote.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 15.—The complete vote of Androscoggin county gives Powers, 5611; Frank, 2293; Republican plurality, 3318. Republican gain in plurality over 1892, 2715. The congressional vote is practically the same.

Portland, Me., Sept. 15.—The complete returns from Cumberland county give Powers, Republican, 10,918; Frank, Democratic, 5107; Republican plurality, 5811. In 1892 this county gave the Republican ticket, 9987; Democratic, 5888;
Republican gain in plurality, 4812.
Biddeford, Me., Sept. 15.—The complete returns from twenty-six out of twenty-seven towns in York county give Powers, Republican, 7889; Frank, Democratic, 5508; Republican plurality, 4372.
In 1892 the missing town of Libington gave the Republican candidate for governor 128 to 123 for the Democratic candidate. The Republican gain in plurality, 5209.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 15.—The corrected vote has been received from all the towns in Kennebec county. It shows a Republican plurality of 4248, the largest ever given in this county. Powers has 6927, and Frank 2494. Milliken's vote is about 60 more than that of Powers. The Republican plurality in this county in 1892 was 1552, a gain yesterday of 2711.
Rockland, Me., Sept. 15.—The complete vote of Knox county, which has given a majority of 1 for the Republican ticket, is in and gives Powers 3204; Frank, 1968. It is estimated that 101, final returns from all the towns will be 107, and the plurality about 1400.

Incomplete Returns.

Republican Estimates Show an Increased Plurality.

Dover, Me., Sept. 15.—Returns from seventeen out of twenty-three in Pemaquid county, give Powers, Republican, 2192; Frank, Democratic, 821. The mis-

ing towns last election gave the Republican ticket a plurality of 5748 and it is estimated that the corrected vote will make this year's Republican plurality, 1460. Boutelle's plurality for congress in the county will be 1550.

Farmington, Me., Sept. 15.—Out of the eighteen towns in Franklin county, fifteen have voted as follows: Powers, 2222;
Frank, 707. The vote in the missing towns in the last election assures a Republican plurality of 1600; Republican gain, 1213.

Skowhegan, Me., Sept. 15.—The vote
in Somerset county reported up to noon today gives Powers, 4156; Frank, 1962.
The Republican majority in the county will be nearly 2500. In 1892 the Republican plurality was 375; Republican gain
in plurality 1125.

Portland, Me., Sept. 15.—Twenty-six out of sixty-nine towns in Arrowsick county gave Powers 3802 and Frank, 1997.
The vote for Boutelle and Chase for congress is about the same. In back of the vote in missing towns four years ago the Republican plurality in the county is estimated at 5500.

South Paris, Me., Sept. 15.—In thirty-one out of thirty-five towns in Oxford county, Powers voted 4440; Frank's, 1900. The missing towns in the last election gave a Republican plurality of 568.
On this basis it is estimated that the county will show a Republican plurality of 3900, a Republican gain of 2975 in plurality.

Machias, Me., Sept. 15.—Twenty-five out of fifty-two towns in Washington county gave 3124 for Powers and 1322 for Frank. In the last election the missing towns gave the Republican ticket 772 plurality, and it is estimated that the complete vote this year will make the plurality 2700. In 1892 it was 1490.

Rockland, Me., Sept. 15.—The vote
from twelve out of seventeen towns in Rockland county gives Powers 2923; Frank, 1309. The missing towns in the last election gave a Republican plurality of 1594. The missing towns in the last election will show the plurality to be over 1800. In 1892 it was 294.

Bedford, Me., Sept. 15.—The vote
from twenty out of twenty-six towns in Waldo county gives Powers 2923; Frank, 1309. The missing towns in the last election gave a Republican plurality of 1594. The missing towns in the last election will show the plurality to be over 1800. In 1892 it was 294.

It was 483.

MANLEY'S GLEE.

What He Wrote to McKinley
From Maine.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Mr. McKinley received the following telegram from Augusta, Me., this morning: "I offer you my hearty congratulations. This is your triumph. The Republican party has achieved this day the most sweeping and magnificent victory ever accorded in the history of the nation. We have carried every county in the state, deflected every state senator and at least 149 out of 153 members of the house of representatives; secured every county official; given each member of our massificent nation a home in the bosom of representatives the largest majority ever recorded; elected our candidate for governor by the greatest majority ever given a candidate for that high office;
endorsed the Louis platform, and re-elected for McKinley and Hobart by 50, 000.

The Republican vote exceeds by several thousand the largest Republican vote heretofore given and the vote for the Democratic candidate for governor is the smallest ever cast, with one exception, the vote of 1894, which was only 5900. We have carried every county, and proven to the country that the Democratic platform adopted in Chicago
did not prevail in the nation, hence reason. We have been asked in this great contest by many Democrats who are not prevalent in the nation, how great that you cannot divide the pie into parts upon a question of simple majority and the great majority they share our victory with us. What more could Maine have done for the cause of good government, honest government, protection?"

Hon. M. A. Hanna and Hon. William
H. Taft, of the national house, said:
"Congratulations on the glorious victory
the men of Maine have achieved for protection, sound money and good government. The great victory in the Pine Tree state is an augury of a greater victory throughout the republic in November."

Other congratulatory telegrams come from the Veterans' McKinley club, San Diego, Cal.; the American club, Pittsburg, Pa.; the McKinley club, St. Paul, Minn.; the
A. R. Republican club, San Diego, Cal.;
W. D. Guilbert, F. S. Menet, and F. S.
Carmichael, Chicago. Charles F. Joy and from St. Louis: "With Maine discounting Vermont in setting the pace, what may we not expect Nov. 3?"

IT WAS EXPECTED.

Maine Dominated by the Money Power.

Madison, Neb., Sept. 15.—Senator
William V. Allen, temporary chairman of the St. Louis convention and later chairman of the Populist national committee, said today: "The result in Maine was anticipated, as that state was believed to be under the complete domination of the money power. It will have the effect of largely increasing the silver vote in the West, and unting all discontented elements."

BRYAN'S BUSY DAY.

Six Speeches Scheduled for Today's Work.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 15.—Hon. W. J.
Bryan left Louisville this morning at 7:30 o'clock for the Blue Grass regions of Kentucky and will make speeches
enroute at La Grange, Eminence, Versailles, Midway and Lexington, completing the days speaking at Mayville, Ky. At Versailles Mr. Bryan will be the guest of Senator J. C. S. Blackburn.
Mr. Bryan will immediately after his third speech last night and would not be one. As a consequence he got a cold, which he has not yet left. He was very much refreshed. Before leaving he expressed himself as highly pleased with his Louisville reception.

EUGENE V. DEBS' TRIP.

Turkey, Ind., Sept. 15.—Eugene
V. Debs leaves this afternoon for Galveston, Tex., where the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen is holding its annual session. Mr. Debs goes to answer charges preferred against him during the period of his secretaryship of the order in a speech made at Monday's meeting of the P. E. F. present secretary of the brotherhood.

EVIDENCE

English, Police Continue to Secure Testimony Against
the Dynamiters,

Incriminating Letters and Internal Machines Found on Several Prisoners.

Kearney and Haines at Rotterdam Will Not Answer Any Questions.

London, Sept. 15.—A representative of the Associated Press was informed today that none of the men captured by the police on the charge of taking part in a dynamite conspiracy had applied to the United States embassies for protection, a step which might be expected were they naturalized American citizens. A dispatch received by the Associated Press from Rotterdam today says that John F. Kearney, alias J. Wallace, and Haines, the two men arrested there in possession of a number of internal machines and a quantity of incriminating correspondence, refuse to answer the questions put to them by the authorities.

Among the articles found in the pockets of the Rotterdam prisoners was a bill from a chemist, at Antwerp (where, in the suburb of Berchem, a complete laboratory for the manufacture of bombs was discovered) for large quantities of chemicals, and a letter, dated "Boulogne-sur-Mer, Saturday, Sept. 12, addressed to "J. Wallace," in which occurs the following passage: "I will start next to Socialism, come to Boulogne, where we can talk the matter over. Cowardice cannot be tolerated among our brothers."

Dispatches to the Associated Press
from Glasgow today say that the police of that city have obtained additional evidence against Edward Bell, the man taken into custody there on the charge of being concerned in the dynamite plot.
The "Exchange Telegraph" company
this afternoon announced that Sir Matthew Whitehead, the secretary of state for home affairs, has ordered the release of the two men, Mr. Bryan and Haines, from Rotterdam prison.

COUNSEL FOR DYNAMITERS.

New York Meeting Raises Lots of Funds.

New York, Sept. 15.—The following statement is printed here today: "The Irish National Alliance, which has its headquarters in the Potter building, had a secret meeting at the home of one of its members last night. The arrangements were made to provide counsel to defend Tynan and Kearney, the dynamite
suspects, and prevent them from being taken to England for trial. It is said that $20,000 was subscribed at this meeting, and that a fund will be increased to $50,000 today."

Investigation of the statements made to include the action of the war in fact.

HIS BROTHER INNOCENT.

So Says John T. Tynan in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—John T.
Tynan, a brother of the man arrested at Boulogne on Sunday for Tynan,
the famous No. 1 of the Phoenix park tragedy in Dublin in May, 1882, was greatly surprised when he read in the morning papers yesterday of the arrest of his brother. He had supposed that he was in New York city, where his last letter was dated from some months ago. Tynan is at present employed as a bartender. He has been in the city for about six years. He was out-rigger in 1868 or 1867 and went to South America, finally locating in San Francisco.
On being interviewed last night with reference to the arrest of his brother,
he said: "I received a letter from my brother,
who was then at Washington Heights, near Brooklyn. He outlined some of his plans to me, and I am confident that he cannot have been implicated in any such plot. The Scotland Yard people have circulated dozens of false reports about my brother. Whenever any such scheme as this is brought to light my brother's sure to be implicated in it by the British detectives. I believe he is innocent and has simply been picked upon by the police, that they may make a showing."

READY FOR TROUBLE.

Embassies at Constantinople
Will be Well Guarded.

Constantinople, Sept. 14, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 15.—(Copyright, 1896, by the Associated Press.)—The embassa-
cies of the powers held a meeting today
in order to lay out a plan for measures
for the protection of the different embassies and the foreign population generally in the event of a renewal of disturbances here. The plan is understood to include the armed action of the war
ships of all the powers, each ship being assigned a certain position, and men to be landed at a given signal to protect threatened points.

The defenses of embassies will also, it
is rumored, be considerably strengthened by an increase in the number of men now guarding them and by other precautions which will tend to make them capable of resisting attack for a considerable time. It is also reported that, in possible contingencies, a number of additional warships of the powers
will reinforce the guardships now doing
duty in these waters.

BRYAN'S TRIP.

Cordially Received in Several Kentucky Towns.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 15.—The pilgrimage of the Democratic nominee for the presidency was continued through Kentucky at 7:45 o'clock this morning. The same special car used yesterday was taken by the party and on board, managing the tour, was Grey Woodson, from this state. There was no demonstration of any kind when Mr. Bryan left Louisville. On board the train were the reception committees from Eminence and Frankfort, and at every place other reception committees came aboard to welcome the nominee to their towns.
There were short stops made at Anchorage, Bearde and Peewee Valley, where the candidate shook hands with those gathered about the train.

The first speech made from the platform of the car was at LaGrange and in it Mr. Bryan asked the people to take the interest in the campaign which its importance justified. This campaign, he said, was of the greatest importance to this country and the paramount issue,
the money question, deserved the deep study of every one. He told the people he was glad to meet the Kentuckians and that his reception everywhere had been most cordial, but he had found out that his visit was unnecessary as the silver sentiment predominated before his coming. He was cheered and applauded wildly by the 700 people present.

After leaving LaGrange, Engineer Ben Schulte of the Louisville & Nashville train, to which the car was attached, gave Mr. Bryan one of the fastest rides he has had on his entire campaign, sending his train along at a triple over-sixty miles an hour.

At Eminence it had started to rain, but 1000 of the Henry county citizens had flocked about a little speaker's stand, to which Mr. Bryan was taken. He gave a 10-minute speech, devoting himself for the greater part to answering the statement made by his opponents that in consequence of the greater production of silver than of gold the white-metal had depreciated and would depreciate in value. He admitted that the production of silver had been three times as great in the last twenty years, but he said that in the last five years the production of gold had increased more rapidly than the production of silver, and that the gold price of silver bullion had fallen more than at any other time. He said that the price of silver was affected by the law of supply and demand,
and that when the United States repealed the Sherman law, and stopped the purchase of fifty-four million ounces of silver per year that it decreased the price of silver, because it lessened the demand for it.

During his speech the rain began to fall in torrents, and Mr. Bryan told his audience that it would be cruel to them to have them stand in the rain, but if his hearers wished he would go on rain or no rain. Rain was still falling when the train pulled into the little hamlet of Bardonia, where Mr. Bryan was taken to the storm to look at the candidate. In this crowd was a young lady, who, with her family, looked on Mr. Bryan and said: "My name is Bryan, and my folks are from Culpeper county, Va. I am told I am your cousin."

"I am glad to meet you," answered
Mr. Bryan, with his best smile, "and I think it is secure the vote of all my fellows. I will have a pretty respectable showing."

This was the last stop before Frankfort.
The train was halted here for a half hour.
The Irish National Alliance, which has its headquarters in the Potter building, had a secret meeting at the home of one of its members last night. The arrangements were made to provide counsel to defend Tynan and Kearney, the dynamite
suspects, and prevent them from being taken to England for trial. It is said that $20,000 was subscribed at this

creased to $50,000 today."

Embassies at Constantinople
Will be Well Guarded.

Constantinople, Sept. 14, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 15.—(Copyright, 1896, by
the Associated Press.)—The embassa-
cies of the powers held a meeting today
in order to lay out a plan for measures
for the protection of the different embassies and the foreign population generally in the event of a renewal of disturbances here. The plan is understood
to include the armed action of the war
ships of all the powers, each ship being
assigned a certain position, and men to
be landed at a given signal to protect
threatened points.

The defenses of embassies will also, it
is rumored, be considerably strengthened by an increase in the number of
men now guarding them and by other
precautions which will tend to make
them capable of resisting attack for a considerable time. It is also reported
that, in possible contingencies, a number of additional warships of the powers
will reinforce the guardships now doing
duty in these waters.

GRAND FALL AND WINTER OPENING,

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SEPT. 17th, 18th and 19th.

The Big Store will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday Nights Until 10 in order that everybody can have an opportunity to visit.
Duluth's Greatest Store.

It is with no little satisfaction, in fact, "pride," we announce to the public our NINTH GRAND FALL AND WINTER OPENING. We have had the satisfaction of seeing this business grow from the smallest of its kind to three times greater than the greatest. This has not been accomplished by wind or trickery nor by bleeding our customers for what we could get out of them. It has been accomplished by buying in the right market and at the Right Prices; by buying only such merchandise as we could put our guarantee on; by catering for the trade of rich and poor and treating both alike; by selling our merchandise on the small profit system—and selling lots of it; by conducting our business on modern up-to-date methods, making it not only profitable, but a pleasure, to trade at the Big Store. ENOUGH of what we have done. It's what we are doing now and intend to do in the future, you want to know about. Patrons, it would take fifty such pages as this to tell you all we would like to, therefore we will cut it short and invite one and all of you to pay the Big Store a visit Thursday, Friday or Saturday of this week and view the grandest and most varied stock of Merchandise ever exhibited under one roof NEW YORK CITY.

Jury Says John G. Howard Was Not in Howard & Haynie Firm.

The Decision Is One Which Means Much to Mr. Howard.

John Coventry, G. N. Messick and G. L. Macauley Indicted Monday.

John G. Howard was not a member of the firm of Howard & Haynie.

At least that was the effect of the jury's verdict in the case of H. Rosenbaum against John G. and E. C. Howard and J. E. Haynie. The case was given to the jury yesterday afternoon, and the verdict was received in court this morning. The jury found in favor of Rosenbaum & Co. and against Howard & Haynie, allowing $2770.40, and in favor of John G. Howard.

The case was an important one, and it Rosenbaum & Co. had succeeded in proving that John G. Howard was a member of the firm there would probably have been a number of similar suits brought for the creditors were interested in getting Mr. Howard to assume the liabilities of Howard & Haynie as a member of the firm.

Judge Brown next took up the case of Michael Norris against Norman H. Murray, to recover $350 on a note and $110 alleged to be due for rent of the Norris house. The case was also given to the jury, and it was expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

Before Judge Seale, in Room 2, the case of Horatio Houston against Isaac Lindefeld was still on trial, and it was expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

THREE WERE INDICTED.

Business Men Arrested For Illegally Having Game.

John Coventry, Duluth manager for the A. Booth Packing company, and George N. Messick and George L. Macauley, of the commission firm of Messick & Macauley, were the parties indicted by the grand jury Monday for illegally having game in their possession, and all three have been arrested.

Mr. Coventry was arraigned early yesterday afternoon. That is, he sat in the back of the court room and his attorney appeared before the court. He was given until this afternoon to plead, and bail was fixed in the sum of $500, which was furnished.

The records show that Messick & Macauley, though neither of them were in court, their attorney appeared for them, and they were given until tomorrow to plead. The case against Mike Riley, charged with stealing three cases of liquor from J. D. Zeln, was given to the jury yesterday afternoon. In five minutes the jury came in with a verdict of not guilty. The trouble with the case against Mike Riley was that J. D. Zeln, the owner of the liquor, could not identify it as his.

The case against Barney Kiernan, charged with the same offense, was dismissed on motion of the company, and the case against McLaughlin and Smith was still on at noon, before Judge Ensign. The evidence in the case against Kiernan, McLaughlin and Smith began to address the jury at 11:15.

SAME OLD STORY.

Canadian Timber Matter Being Worked Extensively.

The mayor has received a letter from Portsmouth, Ohio, containing an inquiry as to the truth of the assertion made by Governor Upham of Wisconsin in an interview published in a Chicago paper to the effect that much of the timber for the Duluth-Superior bridge is being purchased in Canada. The American dealers not being able to meet the price of the Canadian article, the writer says he is a laboring man, and while up to date he is for McKinley, he and a number of his friends are in search of facts by which to test the truth of the matter. He conveys the idea that if the assertions of the Bryan men are true they and not the McKinley folks are the friends of the laboring men and that he and thousands of others in Ohio are open to conviction.

The mayor, in reply, sent a copy of the letter he sent to Grantsburg, Wis., some weeks ago, in reply to a similar inquiry from there. This letter, which was quoted in The Herald at the time, gave it will be remembered, a conversation on the subject between the mayor and G. C. Hartley, vice president of the street railway company, in which Mr. Hartley stated that for some portion of the work the engineer had specified hemlock free from shakes and defects, that they had been unable to find any this side of the Canadian article, and that the requirements had been compelled to go to Canada, although it cost a little more to get it laid down here.

The Ohio letter is significant of two things, one is that the cold people are busily at work palming off falsehoods on American laborers to mislead them to slaughter their own interests at the polls, and the other is that the American is getting a little suspicious of their statements and that they are "candling his eggs" as it were. It has been suggested that in view of the fact that this particular falsehood is being broadly circulated and is attracting attention, it might pay the free silver campaign managers to send out a statement of the facts in the case. A denial from those who are here on the ground and are acquainted with the truth of the matter would checkmate this particular attempt at bamboozling.

ALBUQUERQUE

Spain's Minor King May Lose His Throne and Crown.

Carlist Forces are Very Active and Ready For Trouble.

Strong Probability That the Standard of Don Carlos Will Be Raised.

Madrid, Sept. 17.—(Special to the Associated Press.)—There are unmistakable signs in Carlist circles that Spain may soon have to face most serious internal troubles as well as the uprising in Cuba, the Philippine Islands and, possibly, Porto Rico. The Carlist deputies early during the present month took a determined stand against the adoption by the chamber of the bill providing subsidies for the Spanish railroads. They claimed that the money thus appropriated could be better employed in Cuba and elsewhere, proceeded against the whole financial policy of the government and thereby placed themselves on record before the people as being opposed to all the ills complained of by the suffering masses of Spain.

Later, when the railroad subsidies were adopted, the Carlist deputies withdrew in a body from the chamber. Questioned at that time in the lobbies and elsewhere as to the probable direction of the Carlist masses, these deputies did not hesitate to say that they could not guarantee that their adherents would not take to the mountains and once more raise the standard of Don Carlos. If parliamentarism demanded it, in fact one Carlist deputy, Sr. Sanz, openly proclaimed that the Carlists were not prepared to take advantage of any favorable opportunity to take the field again in support of their chieftain, Don Carlos de Bourbon, duke of Madrid, who claims to be the rightful heir to the throne of Spain.

Other Carlist deputies publicly admitted that they resented the Carlist action in order to avoid any responsibility for the disasters which they foresaw were arising as a result of the Carlist policy, and it became known later that secret instructions were sent by the Marquis Carrascho, chief of the Carlist organization, to the Carlist organizations throughout Spain, notifying them to prepare for the possibility of the outbreak of a good opportunity arising for re-asserting the rights of Don Carlos by force of arms.

The Marquis Carrascho, who showed up the municipal corruption of Madrid and who was exiled and nearly killed for his trouble, wrote to the newspapers declaring that the stand taken by the Carlists, like that of the Republicans in protesting against the sending of further reinforcements of troops to Cuba, might be the signal for grave and serious internal struggles. Then to cap the climax, the Carlist deputies issued a manifesto explaining and defending their action in leaving the chamber of deputies and declaring that their leader would be ready when the moment had arrived to respond to the call of the nation would summon them to save it.

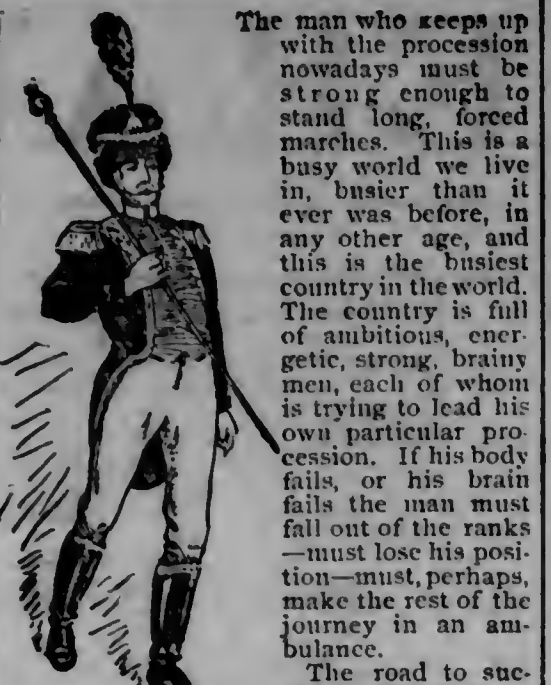

The manifesto was signed by the Carlists on record as supporting the supremacy of the church, the throne and a parliament representing all classes and expressing the freedom of the provinces in administrative and financial matters. Under ordinary circumstances this is to say, if the Spanish government had been hands free these manifestations would have been followed by expressions of approval, but the Carlists were not to be deterred by the opposition of the Carlist chiefs and prevent any uprising. It was so indicated that Don Carlos had promised the Carlists to support the Spanish government in its efforts to suppress the insurrection in Cuba and preparing for the possibility of embroilment with the United States.

In an interview with Don Carlos, published yesterday, the pretender is reported to have declared that he had entered into an engagement with the pope and with Emperor Francis Joseph not to attack the Spanish regency. Don Carlos is also quoted as adding that, while it is true that patriotism engenders a peaceful attitude upon his part at present, the same patriotism might counsel a change of opinion, for, he concluded, he is perfectly free to choose the opportune moment to reassert his rights.

The publication of this interview has again seen the hearts of the Carlists beating with expectation, and it is more than likely that a serious revolt to the Spanish army in Cuba would be followed by an outbreak of the Carlists, who are admitted to be better prepared than ever before to take the field with hope of success. Don Carlos, through his marriage to the Princess of Romania, in 1894, was enabled to come into large fortune, and there is no doubt that this money for a long time past has been utilized to prepare for another attempt to place King Charles VII on the throne of Spain.

Spain lately Cuba, which seems to be more than likely, the Carlists claim that the downfall of the present regency will follow immediately, and that Charles VII will be triumphantly placed upon the throne with little or no opposition. The Spanish ministers, however, claim to be well able to cope with the Carlists and to suppress the insurrection in Cuba.

AFTER THIRTEEN YEARS.
San Francisco, Sept. 17.—Lillian Swan, or Daly, the mutant girl who was kidnapped from her home in Wisconsin, D. C. thirteen years ago, and who recently discovered her identity and the whereabouts of her relatives, is to be returned to her Eastern home. Chief of Police Crowley has succeeded in securing transportation for her to San Francisco, and he will pay out of his own pocket the amount of fare from Chicago to Washington.

The man who keeps up with the procession nowadays must be strong enough to stand long, forced marches, in any other age, and this is the blindest country in the world. The country is full of ambitious, energetic, strong, brainy men, each of whom is trying to lead his own particular procession. If his body fails, or his brain fails, or his will fails, the man must fall out of the ranks.

The road to success is full of struggles, full of those who—because they neglected their health—could not keep step, had to drop from the front ranks, and the second, and from the second to the third, until finally they were left behind altogether. A man can succeed in war or in business, or in any other undertaking, unless he has health to back him, and he must sustain his efforts. When he begins to lose health and strength and vitality, he begins to lose the value of his efforts. He loses the power of accomplishment, and so the power of energy.

A man's health is the most precious thing he can possibly own. Every man who is losing health, who is "run-down," who is nervous and weak, who is losing flesh and strength and appetite, should heed the danger signals while yet there is time, and should begin immediately to take the most wonderful of all invigorating blood tonics, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will build up the system of all others that will build up wasting strength; that will give flesh, that will cure nervousness and sleeplessness; that will bring back the failing strength of brain and body and nerves. A healthy body, and having as good as nothing else, is "just as good." It is sold by all good druggists, and full information concerning it may be obtained by addressing the World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

DISCOVERY OF NEPTUNE.

French Scientists to Celebrate the Great Event.

Paris, Sept. 17.—The French scientists will tomorrow celebrate the greatest achievement won by French thought in the domain of astronomy, that of Urbain Le Verrier, who discovered the planet Neptune just fifty years ago. The honor of naming out the track of Neptune is properly divided between two men, Urbain Le Verrier, a Frenchman, and John Couch Adams, an Englishman. Each pursued his investigations independently of the other, but their conclusions were arrived at almost simultaneously. Le Verrier, having learned the place in the heavens of the hitherto unknown planet, had it named after him, and Adams, having obtained his mass, was so confident in his calculations that he wrote to the astronomer of the Berlin observatory, requesting him to point him out in the sky.

By processes similar to those of Le Verrier, John Couch Adams, then a resident in Cambridge, Mass., was also led to the discovery of the planet. Adams, in fact, was the first to announce the discovery of the planet, but his calculations were not so accurate as those of Le Verrier, and his discovery was not so generally known.

URBAIN LE VERRIER.
A graduate of Cambridge university with an exceptionally brilliant record as a scientific student, had become convinced of the existence of another planet, and asked Professor Challis, the Cambridge astronomer, to search for it. Challis was looking for another planet, and he was looking for it in the same way as Le Verrier was looking for it. He was looking for it in the same way as Le Verrier was looking for it.

RICE CROP ALL RIGHT.
Washington, Sept. 17.—Consul Stang writes the department of state from Saigon, Cochina China, that the Chinese rice crop did not suffer from inundations as was thought probable a few weeks ago. The Hong Kong market has declined with the Saigon market remains firm. Exports from Saigon to July 23 this year amounted to $86,114,762 pounds as compared with $83,844,044 pounds during the corresponding period of last year.

A KIDNAPPER CONVICTED.
San Francisco, Sept. 17.—The jury was out only five minutes before rendering a verdict of guilty in the case of Oliver W. Whitcomb, charged with robbery in connection with the abduction of James Campbell, a Hawaiian millionaire, who stated he was bound and gagged three days by Whitcomb, who sought a $20,000 ransom.

TWO CHILDREN SUFFOCATED.
Boston, Sept. 17.—Hazel, five-year-old son of A. W. Pettit, a druggist, and Charles Waters, 3 years old, were found in an unconscious condition yesterday in the cellar under Mr. Pettit's drug store. They had overdone themselves with the gas from a gas stove that had been burning for some time. They had been found by a neighbor who called to see if they had done in unsetting the clock. Both were pronounced dead soon after being taken from the cellar.

Further Discussion of the New Dreibund Proposition in England.

England, Italy and the United States Could Force Compliance.

Covert Compliment to America in the Article of Today.

London, Sept. 17.—The St. James' Gazette this afternoon returns to the discussion of its proposition of a new Dreibund to be formed by Great Britain, the United States and Italy for the settlement of the American question, and says: "If Great Britain, the United States and Italy presented the sulian with a joint demand that certain conditions must be complied with, in three years the mere existence of such an alliance would be sufficient to convince not merely the sulian, but persons in view and recognized as the arbiters of the world, that the sulian must be brought to terms." The article in the St. James' Gazette concludes with the following sentences: "In the event of graver complications arising, the new Dreibund would be able to use to face them with the moral support of a fine navy, whose addition to ours would make us equal to any possible combination and would give us the moral support of the gigantic civilized nation, which no other state would care to have among its opponents."

SAVED BY HIS DOG.

How James Feenan, Escaped a Fiery Death.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 17.—That James Feenan, a well-known, who resides alone in a small cottage at Berkeley, was not burned to a crisp last night is due to his dog. About 2 o'clock a. m., he broke out in the adjoining room, and the dog, by his howls and frantic leaps, attracted the attention of the neighbors, who were already surrounded by flames. In escaping from the house he was seriously burned. The fire had spread from various portions of his body. His wife was all alone and his eyebrows and whiskers were singed. In the middle of the night he was found near the little dog, that had been searching in his efforts to save his master, stood by his side.

After the battle of the Brandywine the American army, under Mifflin, was defeated by the British, and the British then moved on to Philadelphia. The massacre at Paoli was a dark chapter in the history of the American Revolution.

MR. BUTTERWORTH ANSWERED.

In his speech at St. Paul, Tuesday night, which he will probably repeat in Duluth tonight, Ben Butterworth said: "What we need is not more money, but confidence, and that prosperity will follow which comes with well kept bonds or international bimetalism is sure to come. France will join us, Germany will join us. The Latin union is anxious to join us, and England will come with us. For England is very quick to see what will be best for her and we shall have bimetalism with honor and prosperity."

On March 26 of the present year, less than six months ago, Mr. Butterworth wrote a letter to Senator Teller, enclosing a letter from Samuel J. Ritchie, of Akron, Ohio, both letters being in relation to the money question. These letters from document No. 235, printed by order of the United States senate made on April 29, 1896. In this letter, Mr. Butterworth advanced strong reasons in favor of bimetalism and urged that the United States must undertake it independently. He said:

"The English financiers and capitalists say to their countrymen: 'The United States government has consented to pay us in gold all their debts, public and private, and not only that, but her ever-redeemable but never redeemed—and that will not stay redeemed—greenback can be so manipulated as to compel the government to supply the gold for that purpose, and hence she sells us bonds to get the gold; and, better still, each dollar of gold we pay for the bonds comes back to us on the next steamer that sails from New York; and, better yet, we have by our financial scheme enabled our Englishmen to buy American produce at half the price and accept demeritized silver or painted rates in payment, while we make them pay what they owe us in gold, the purchasing power of which we have doubled by demeritizing silver. All this is far from encouraging to my countrymen, and ranging resolutions and speeches, which are the working capital for juggling politics, and sage advice by boards of trade will not cure the evil resulting from a vicious policy that, as above stated, burns our candle at both ends. Nor will we find relief in a system of taxation supposed to be less onerous because indirect, but which compels the man who holds the plow, or stands at the anvil, or the throttle of an engine to pay as much or more than the millionaire to support the government."

And the remedy which Mr. Butterworth now proposes for this state of affairs which he so graphically depicted last March, is what? "Not more money, but confidence."

Yet in the same letter written less than six months ago, the same Mr. Butterworth said:

"I thought until recently that, possibly, if congress should proclaim to the world our fixed determination to pay every debt in gold or its equivalent, confidence would be restored and our industries be quickened, and the gloomy conditions pass away. But I am satisfied that those of us who indulged that hope were in error."

"Oh," but says Mr. Butterworth now, ignoring this confession that maintaining the gold standard will never restore confidence, "international bimetalism is sure to come. France will join us, Germany will join us. The Latin union is anxious to come with us, and England will come with us."

Well, let us hear what Mr. Butterworth said on this very point less than six months ago. In the letter of March 29 he wrote:

"Is it not folly to suppose that the capitalists of England—and they are the capitalists of the world—will be easily persuaded to agree or consent to bimetalism? Why should they? How is it to their interest to do so while we consent to make it to their advantage to refuse? They have doubled the value of their credits by demeritizing silver, and thus in effect doubled the interest received by them. The United States bumbled into that trap, and within a year beggared a million of her citizens, and, if we adhere to the blunder, will beggar five millions more and double the burden of every debtor and burden-bearer in the land. If it be said the United States cannot act alone, the answer is, conditions are such that she must give notice that she will act with England if the latter consents; otherwise she will act alone. * * * We are the greatest debtor nation on earth. Hence it may be we must start alone, if at all, and creditor nations will speedily join us for their own protection in re-establishing bimetalism. If necessary, and the United States does not start alone, gold monometallism will be so firmly entrenched behind the ramparts of wealth and power and the mass of the people be so helpless that bimetalism will be postponed a generation, if not forever."

The Herald believes that Mr. Butterworth wrote his honest sentiments last March, and that his letter to Senator Teller is entitled to much greater weight than are the speeches of himself and others now upon the stump—speeches which he has aptly described as "the working capital of juggling politics."

PULLMANS AND MAIL CARS.

The Topeka, Kas., State Capital contends that in what has been said in condemnation of the national administration for its action in relation to the mail strike and also in what has been said in the administration's defense, both sides seem to be shooting wide of the mark. The whole matter appears to rest upon a question of fact rather than on theory or law. That the transmission of the United States mails was being interfered with there is no question. That the national authority had a constitutional right to intervene does not seem to admit of a doubt.

The whole controversy seems to have grown out of a question as to who was at fault. A proper settlement of the matter would therefore seem to rest on this question of fact. The railroad companies complained that they could not move their trains carrying the mails. The strikers asserted that they were willing not only to allow the mail trains to move but to assist in moving them, provided they carried no Pullman cars.

Who, then, was obstructing the mails? The president at Washington decided that it was the strikers, and out of that decision has grown the whole discussion. Pullman and the railroad officials think the president was right while the strikers think he was wrong and should have exercised his power, if at all, on the other fellows.

It is surprising to notice the lack of information in the discussion of Pullman's betrays in his discussion of prices in India and the manner in which England uses silver to turn and control the market against us, using the difference between the silver prices in India and other silver-using countries and the gold prices in the United States to force down prices and compel the American farmer to sell at ruinous rates. If Mr. Hopkins and others who are studying this question, but have not yet advanced far enough to get the facts clearly fixed in their minds, will remember that the Indian wheat grower sells his crops for silver. His taxes, debts and wages are paid in the same silver coin. The rupee today will buy as much, and it will go just as far in paying the cost of producing wheat as it did in 1880 or 1873, equivalent to the fall in the rupee as measured by gold. Where the American farmer received in 1894, for instance, 67 cents in gold, less freight and other charges to Liverpool, for what sold in England the Indian farmer received $1.10 in silver, and the silver is worth as much to the Indian farmer as the gold was worth to the American farmer. Silver has not lost any of its purchasing power in India, and it is therefore utterly absurd to talk about the workman of India getting wages that have lost in purchasing power.

John Lind's letter of acceptance will in all probability remove any doubts which might have existed as to the gubernatorial result. It was a masterful presentation of the issues, and so reasonable and fair that even the ex-Paul Globe, a rabid gold standard organ, admits editorially that "it was an effort of extraordinary ability, and easily the best effort up to date of the campaign."

If the farmer and shipper of Minnesota do not elect John Lind governor over Merriam's candidate, Clough, they deserve the fate they have received in the past, of unjust and extortionate freight rates, tax discrimination, pine land and school fund abuses, and the whole train of evils which have been inflicted upon the people of Minnesota for years by the most corrupt gang which ever scuttled a ship of state.

W. Bourke Cockran, the retired defender of McKinley, Hanna and the gold standard, spoke at Minneapolis last night. By the expenditure of several thousand dollars he has got up a big demonstration in his honor. It is amusing to see Cockran now defending McKinley when, in his great tariff speech of Jan. 13, 1894, he denounced McKinley as the instrument of the trusts and the arch enemy of American labor and freedom. McKinleyism, he asserted, is the enemy of labor and trades unions. Said Mr. Cockran in 1894: "The prosperity of this country depends, not upon law, but upon labor; not upon tariff schedules, but upon natural advantages; not upon William McKinley, but upon Almighty God." Mr. Cockran, by way, is fond of preaching about the effect of legislation on labor and of posing as a "friend of labor," but you never heard of a labor union commissioning Mr. Cockran to speak in its behalf.

President Diaz of Mexico says that free coinage of silver has operated to reduce impostments, and that the added price of exchange has been of great benefit to the tariff in that country. What more protection to its industries does any country want than the protection thus afforded by the free coinage of silver?

The desperation of the already defeated goldbugs is evidenced by the flood of abuse and billingsgate poured out by the News-Tribune today upon Mr. Towner and The Herald. Abuse and not argument, is the stock-in-trade of the goldbug organ.

The News-Tribune now has the nerve to claim that McKinley and Morris will carry Duluth. There is just as much chance that they will carry Duluth as there is that they will get a majority in Missouri.

Bourke Cockran came to Minneapolis as the direct agent of Wall street to tell the workmen of the city how to vote, but they are hardly likely to accept advice from such a source.

Ben Butterworth is the lightning change artist of the present campaign.

MAINE ELECTION EFFECTS.

Chicago Record (goldbug): Secretary J. Sterling Morton gives expression to a warning which Republican shouters would do well to heed when he says that the great fault of the silver-silver people in this campaign is boastful overconfidence.

There has been a conspicuous fault of the opponents of free silver. Lulling the masses into hopeful inactivity with the assertion that the "silver agitation" was a great fault of the silver-silver people, they have been caught by the Democratic national convention was in the silver control of the advocates of free silver coinage. No matter how bright the stars in the sky, the silver-silver people, a shock by the discovery that the Democratic national convention was in the silver control of the advocates of free silver coinage. ## IT HURTS MCKINLEY.

Bulldozing of Workmen May Be Stopped.

Chicago special: The scheme of sending speckers into the factories and workshops of the city to discuss only one side of the financial question may be dropped, as the Republican managers have discovered that great injury is being done to their ticket. Instead of making friends for McKinley and gold, the scheme has created antagonism among the workmen. The latter claim that while they are willing to hear political speeches and receive new light, they do not want to lose sight of their own work to do so. Many reports come from them after listening for an hour or two to the gold standard advocate they are forced to make up the lost time.

POINTED

C. O. Baldwin Makes Some Sarcastic Remarks About Page Morris.

Discusses the Statement That Morris Is Not an Office Seeker.

Office Has Always Been Forced Upon Him and Reluctantly Accepted.

A large crowd were present at the regular meeting of the Central Towne club, in its new quarters in the old postoffice building last evening. James Page acted as chairman.

C. O. Baldwin made a speech in which he dwelt upon the workings of a perverse fate that has persistently forced Page Morris into office against that gentleman's wish. The career of officeholding into which he has been forced is at war with his tastes, as he has repeatedly expressed, and is an illustration of the truth that man is but the sport of chance. Mr. Baldwin said he knew Mr. Morris has not been a seeker after office, because Mr. Morris had said so. He had heard that Mr. Morris had been sought by office in Virginia just as he has been here. He had been suggested there, too, by the people who wanted him to yank all the buns in sight, contrary to his inclinations. This among other sacrifices the people had insisted on his making. He was to run for congress on a platform, contemplated the repudiation of the state debt. He was not sure that it is a fact, but he had written for information.

When Page came to Duluth, Mr. Baldwin had hung up his hat and was running for municipal judge. He did not want to, but he did. He did not want to be appointed district judge. He said he did not, and the trifling circumstance that he had come to the speaker for assistance in getting himself struck by the lightning of gubernatorial favor in the matter should not be allowed to weigh against his assertion. Page did not wish to be congressman, and the present indications are that at last the wish of his life is to be gratified and he will be allowed to take his way along the secluded walks of private life. The speaker hoped that Morris would hear up and cease to worry. In view of the approaching fulfillment of his cherished desire.

When the people get down to a study of important issues, said the speaker, they generally vote right. They are studying this time like men who understand that if anything is to be done right they must do it themselves. Kinley has been forced to shift his position on the financial question by the Republican managers. The cry of the gold people is that we want to depreciate the currency and cheat our creditors. The fact is that we want to stop the speculation of gold and the consequent defrauding of debtors. Under our present system, when a debt has been secured any length of time is paid, the creditor is paid in more expensive money than he gave for it. Those who say he is wrong have to admit that he is honest. He is not working for personal interest, and there is not a voter in the district who does not owe it to himself and to his district to vote for him.

M. A. Hays, S. H. Dixon, J. Bureau and J. H. Baker were called on. They all said they were prepared to speak, but nevertheless they each managed to put a few shots into the enemy's camp. Where they were most effective and they recalled a few of the facts that it always vexes a goldbug to hear about.

NOTHING WRECKED THE CONSTITUTION. More effectively than fever and ague, that nerve destroying malady, which takes from man his ability to function, exhausts the physical energies, impairs the mental faculties, and renders the individual incapable of doing his duty. The use of the pericardic drug, quinine, Hostetter's Stomach Balm, or any of the other remedies, is of little avail in the case of a person suffering from this disease. The only remedy is the one which is the result of a scientific and practical study of the human system, which not only regulates the system, but gives it the power to resist the attack of disease. The only remedy is the one which is the result of a scientific and practical study of the human system, which not only regulates the system, but gives it the power to resist the attack of disease.

RETAIL LIQUOR DEALERS.

State Convention Opened Here
This Afternoon.

The second annual convention of the Minnesota Retail Liquor Dealers' association was opened at Turner hall at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon by President Doran of the local organization. In a few well chosen remarks, Mr. Doran welcomed the delegates to Duluth in behalf of the resident members of the association. An address by State President Martin followed, in which the objects of the association and the work accomplished since its organization were briefly reviewed.

At the conclusion of the state president's remarks, the convention proceeded to business, which was confined to receiving the credentials of delegates. This evening session will be held, commencing at 8 o'clock. There will be addresses by Mayor Trueson, August Ritter and others.

The greater number of the delegates and visitors arrived this morning. Quite a number reached the city last night and others were expected to get in during the day. At noon, President Doran said that about 120 delegates had already arrived. It is estimated that there will be about 200 visitors present outside of the delegates. The Twin Cities are well represented, there being about sixty in all from there.

A. Fager & Co. have presented each delegate with a key to the beer vaults of their brewery, coupled with an invitation to make liberal use of the same during their stay. The visitors will be given an excursion on the steamer Liberty tomorrow afternoon, the trip being "around the horn" and to Fond Du Lac. The city band will furnish the music. The boat will leave the Fifth avenue dock at 2 o'clock.

A business session will be held tomorrow morning, commencing at 9:30 o'clock. The following are the local committees: Arrangements—R. C. Kennedy, A. Levasseur, Gust Peterson, William Meier and T. Doyle. Reception—F. J. Linton, John Schütz and Martin Smith. Excursion—J. W. Anderson and Louis Wolfson. Music—A. Salter, J. Simpson and M. J. Armond. Railroads—J. Goska.

She is a poet, reader and entertainer, and has made selections from her own tales of Indian tradition, romance and heroism, attired in the costumes of the Indians and the Mohawks. Mr. Stimley is an English society entertainer of recognized merit. He is said to have suggestion of James Whitecomb Riley in his manner.

DRIED FRUIT.

Southern Pacific Forms a European Tariff.

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—For the first time in the history of the Southern Pacific that corporation has decided to put into effect a tariff on dried fruit, bringing California and Eastern points in the hope of increasing fruit shipments from here to Europe. The tariff schedule was issued last night. Oakland, San Jose, Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville and Los Angeles, via New Orleans, New York to London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Bordeaux, Havre, Hamburg, Bremen, Antwerp, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Copenhagen and Stockholm.

These new rates are the outcome of advice given the company by people interested in fruit shipments from California to Europe. These people believe there is a greater field in Europe for California dried fruit than for the fresh, although they anticipate the demand for the latter is constantly on the increase.

JEALOUS WOMAN'S CRIME.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 17.—Ethel Woods, an unmarried lady of about 22 years, has been arrested for arson. When the fire was discovered the whole side of the house was in flames.

The Oratorio Society.

The testimonial concert to Arthur G. Drake will be given in Pilgrim Congregational church next Wednesday evening. The Oratorio society will repeat its great success of "The Legend of Don Minho." This work is without doubt one of the most beautiful cantatas that has been written. Last May when the society gave it, it was received with more fervor than any musical work ever given in Duluth. This will be Mr. Drake's last appearance here as a director, and his many friends are going to make it a big success. The story of "Don Minho" is taken from the Spanish papers of Washington Irving. A pleasing feature of the concert will be an "Andante in G" for two voices and organ by (Mr. Oeschke), Miss Andrus and Mrs. L. Man.

Superior Aldermen's Assertion.

At the Superior council meeting Tuesday evening, while that body was discussing the Harris telephone franchise matter, which is still agitating the council of that city, Alderman McQueen stated that the reason the franchise was not granted in Duluth was because the parties interested did not have the $60,000 necessary to get it through the council.

Chester Terrace.

We wish to let for the winter (and longer if desired) two houses in Chester Terrace. These houses are supplied with ranges and are heated by steam from a central plant. The rent asked, heat included, is about what the coal will cost per month for the ordinary first-class dwelling. Each house has 11 rooms, conveniently arranged, with all modern appliances, in splendid condition, the service is excellent and the neighborhood is the best in Duluth. The people who occupy the other houses in the row are a sufficient comment on the accuracy of our statements. At the present time these are the cheapest houses in the city. If we cannot get what we ask for the two remaining houses our mind now is to take what we can get.

Pain's "Pompeii."

Because of the threatening weather the crowd at the performance of the "Pain's Pompeii" was not so large as it should have been, though it was fairly large. The performance went off as cleverly as on the night before, however. Tonight the portrait of W. J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate for president, will be shown in fireworks, and it is promised that the representation will be lifelike as well as brilliant. The performance will continue until Saturday night, when it will be performed for the last time.

Tonight's Meeting.

Congressman Henderson of Iowa and Hon. Butterworth of Ohio, both able and eloquent men, will speak at the car barn tonight on the campaign from a Republican standpoint. Preparations are being made to entertain a large crowd at the car barn, and Mabel Holden will sing campaign songs. At 7:30 tonight there will be a parade by the Young Men's Republican club and the drum corps, both in uniform. The club uniform consists of a cap and cape, and each member will carry a torch.

2000 to 1—Gold and Silver.

That is the kind of tons I give, and that is the kind of money I take for the best coal in the city. I deliver trunks for 25 cents. George W. Strayer, agent, 210 West Superior street, Tel. 601.

Towne Meeting Tonight.

The Second Ward Towne club will have a roasting meeting tonight at the car barn. Good speakers have been secured, which will insure interesting entertainment. This club has been growing steadily and now has a membership of nearly 400.

Ghastly Reminder of the Arch Fiend Found Near Evanston, Illinois.

A Forest Mound Found to Be Full of Human Bones.

Place is Only a Few Rods From Where Holmes Lived.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—In the dense woods between North Evanston and Winnetka, a grave has been found full of human bones. The discovery was made by A. H. Parker, of Evanston, who, with his wife, has been making frequent excursions into the woods during the last two months. Mrs. Parker, some weeks ago, described the place as a grave, and urged her husband to investigate it.

At first refused, but finally consented, just to show his wife she knew nothing about graves. He dug long enough to turn up a few ribs and a thigh bone, and then called on the police for help.

Yesterday afternoon several bones and a skull, supposed from its size to be that of a woman, were found. The investigation was stopped by darkness, but will be resumed today.

The spot is only a few rods from the house in which H. Holmes lived, and it is thought by the police that the bones may be those of some of his victims. The bones had evidently been interred for more than two years, and were apparently placed in the grave without a coffin and no clothing or shroud being found. From the size of the bones, it is thought they must be from several people.

A BOGUS BARON. ASSAULTED BY CRANES.

California Family Fooled By a German Tramp.

San Francisco, Sept. 18.—With the identification of the body of an unknown youth who committed suicide under mysterious circumstances at San Francisco, Sunday last, the story of the eventful, but brief career of an alleged German baron at Belmont, in San Mateo county, has just come to light. About a year ago, a tramp was picked up on the highway between Redwood City and Belmont, by a philanthropic resident of the latter place who took him home and gave him employment. After working for almost nine months, the youth, who was known as Harry Moore, confided to the ladies of his employer's household that he was an impostor. Instead of being an ordinary tramp, he was Baron E. von Zedwich, the eldest son of a German nobleman.

Among other incidents of his life he related that he had been offered in the German navy, but had deserted his ship for some imaginary grievance when in South Africa and had worked his way to this coast. Since his arrival here, he had been corresponding with his father, and the latter, who was a personal and intimate friend of his, had exercised his political pull and that he had not only been forgiven for deserting his ship, but had been appointed by an appointment as a first lieutenant. He also intimated that his dear mother had just before his death forgiven him and bequeathed him a sum equal to about $50,000 in American money.

Recent letters, he also stated, had been received by him announcing that an allowance would be paid to him by his father, who was anxious for him to return to his fatherland. As he produced letters to substantiate his story, his romance was credited by one member of the family at least, the youngest daughter of his employer, who associated her relatives by announcing shortly afterwards that she had pledged her troth to the baron. The latter, a distinguished foreigner, ceased to work and lived as the honored guest of his benefactor, but just before his father arrived from Germany denouncing him as an impostor, he disappeared.

CHECK TO SPECULATION.

German Government Will Take Stringent Measures.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Consul Julius Muth reporting to the department of state from Magdeburg on the new exchange law of the German empire says that the government under the pressure of the agitation party has undertaken to check speculation on the exchanges, not only in stocks, but also in food products. Under the law no exchange can be established without the consent of the government, which, through a commissioner, will exercise a continued supervision over its actions and dealings. A court of honor created, which may exclude persons from the exchange after due trial.

Parties who have been judicially declared bankrupt will be excluded for at least six months and permanently if the bankruptcy was fraudulent. When the listing of stock or bonds is applied for at the exchange, a committee will make a thorough investigation of all their circumstances affecting their security and desirability, and will then decide whether they may be admitted. Before this is done a prospectus must be established giving all particulars of such securities. Stocks will not be admitted to the exchange after the entry of the firm name in the commercial register, nor before the publication of the balance sheet for the first business year.

All parties who have signed the prospectus are liable for a correction of the must make good any loss or damage to the takers of securities, resulting from false misstatements on the part of the prospectus. Besides they are liable to be criminally prosecuted if the circumstances warrant such action. All dealing in futures or on term at the exchange are prohibited unless the parties to the transaction are entered in the so-called exchange register. The original entry in this register costs $35 and an annual fee of about $6 is exacted to keep the entry alive. Persons failing to have their names entered in the register have no legal claims against other by reason of any term transactions.

The man who keeps up with the procession nowadays must be strong enough to stand up to the march. This is a busy world we live in, busier than it ever was before, in any other age, and this is the busiest country in the world. The country is full of ambitious, energetic, strong, brainy men, each of whom is trying to lead his own particular procession. If his body fails, or his brain fails, the man must fall out of the ranks—must lose his position—must, perhaps, make the rest of the journey in an ambulance.

The road to success is full of struggles, full of those who neglect their health—could not keep step—had to drop from the front rank to the second, and from the second to the third, until finally they were left behind altogether. A man can't succeed in war or in business, or in any other undertaking, unless he has health to carry him forward and to sustain his efforts. When he begins to lose health and strength and vitality, he begins to lose his value in the world. He loses the power of accomplishment, and so the power of earning.

A man's health is the most precious thing he can possibly own. Every man who is losing health, who is "run-down," who is nervous and weak, who is losing flesh and sleep and appetite, should heed the danger signals while yet there is time, and should begin immediately to take the most powerful of all invigorating blood tonics, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the medicine of all others that will build up the system, and all informed physicians will cure nervousness and sleeplessness; and that will bring back the failing strength of brain and body, and the power of earning.

Such claims are considered in the light of the fact that the medicine is sold by a dealer in the future of grain and mill products, stocks of mining and manufacturing establishments on the exchange is entirely forbidden. Whoever habitually and for selfish purposes, induces inexperienced persons to speculate on the exchange in such articles, as are mentioned in this advertisement, will be punished by imprisonment and a money fine of not exceeding $500. The law will go into effect on Jan. 1, 1897.

SAID BY HINRICHSSEN.

The Goldbug Democrats Must Change Their Name.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Secretary of State Hinrichsen gave it out that the goldbug Democrats will have to adopt another name in order to get their ticket on the official ballot. "No petition taken out in the name of the Independent Democratic party shall be certified to while I am secretary of state," said Mr. Hinrichsen. He stated that he had been looking up the law relating to the filing of petitions, and finds that a voter can sign the petition of but one elector. The goldbug Democrats, however, have already prepared petitions for their candidates, so that no technical objection can be raised as to their legal right to be placed on the official ticket.

PENNSYLVANIA STORM.

Great Damage Done in Many Places Last Night.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—The storm of wind, hail and rain which swept over the eastern part of Pennsylvania last night, was the most severe that has been known in this section in a long time. Scores of buildings were unroofed, some of them utterly ruined, thousands of acres of crops were destroyed, and many skilful farmers were killed. The most severe damage was done in the counties of Chester, Montgomery, Berks, Bucks, Lehigh and Lancaster. In the latter county, where the damage was most extensive, the loss was estimated at $1,000,000, and several houses were unroofed.

PRINCE OF WALES NOT HURT.

London, Sept. 18.—The sensational story circulated in the United States to the effect that the prince of Wales had been injured by a bullet fired from a rifle at the Crystal Palace, Sunday last, is entirely untrue. The prince, who was in the habit of shooting some birds from a gun, was struck in the arm by a bullet, but the wound was not serious, and the prince of Wales was not hurt.

ABOUT A GIRL.

San Franciscoans Have a Fierce Ring Fight.

San Francisco, Sept. 18.—It took twenty-eight rounds of desperate bare knuckle slugging early yesterday morning to settle a dispute that has existed for a long time between Jimmy Britt, once champion bantamweight of the coast, and Frank Lawler, another well-known fighter whose name in the past arena have made him quite prominent. Britt and Lawler were formerly friends, but had a falling out over a member of the fair sex and decided to settle the controversy in a bare knuckle fight. Both being members of a well known athletic club in the mission that has turned out a great many good boxers, it was decided to hold the match there.

The location of the ring was kept secret until the last minute and while the fighters were in training, no one, except a favored few knew where the mill was to take place. Early yesterday morning these few selected a well known sporting man as referee and the combatants stripped and went to work. The first three rounds consisted of hot give and take work with the result that both men were tired and weary. When the fourth was called, from the fifth to the twelfth, however, the fighting was just war of honors about even.

They took things easy until the twentieth round, when another fierce rally was made by Lawler, who landed a right hand swing landed on Britt's neck. He recovered in the next round and from that time the fight was a war of attrition. Lawler being tired. As there seemed to be no chance of a finish, both men were terribly punished, the referee called the match a draw.

DEAR SIR: The "For Rent" Ad placed in last evening's Herald, brought me very promptly a great number of replies and has the means of securing for the house a desirable tenant. I believe that if the real estate men and rental agencies of our city could use more extensively this style of display advertising in telling the people know what properties they have for rent and sale, they could get quicker returns and find this manner of publicity very remunerative. Very truly,

AFRAID TO DISCUSS.

Lakeside McKinley Club Wont
Talk Finance.

As long ago as Sep. 2, the Lakeside Township club challenged the Lakeside McKinley club and Morris club to debate the financial question. The Township club has held two meetings since and the McKinley club and Morris club has met since, but not even an acknowledgment of the receipt of the challenge has been received.
The invitation was extended in a friendly spirit and with the belief that as this is a campaign of education, a joint discussion would provide the best means for enlightening the people of that portion of the city on the great issue of the campaign.

The McKinley and Morris club evidently does not believe in that kind of a campaign, or is afraid of enlightening
the people, or possibly cannot do it.

A parallel for the action, or rather inaction, of the McKinley and Morris club
can be found in the Carlton county case.
Congressman Towns was invited to enter into a joint discussion of the financial question and immediately accepted. So far Page Morris or any one else has failed to agree to sustain the gold side of the controversy.

Proceedings of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Convention
Yesterday and Today.

Last Evening Was Devoted to Entertaining the Members and Guests.

Report of President Martin
Read to the Convention Today.

The promotion of good fellowship was the order of business at last evening's session of the Minnesota Retail Liquor Dealers' association convention. It is perhaps unnecessary to say that the end was accomplished. The dry details of figures, statistics and laws and means were vigorously explained, and music speech making and feasting occupied the whole time of the delegates and guests. Long tables had been set out in the hall and at these the delegates seated themselves. The meeting was called to order by President Martin.
Simultaneously with the fall of the gavel, a glass of toasting beer was tripped in front of each one present, from which was drunk the health of Major Truesden as the latter appeared to deliver the address of welcome and tender to the visiting delegates the president of the city.

The mayor expressed his pleasure at being called upon to address the association and said he voiced the wish of the citizens of Duluth that the guests might carry away with them pleasant recollections of their stay. That the association had selected this city as its meeting place is a source of congratulation to the people of Duluth. He trusted that the delegates would be impressed by the fact that the city of Duluth was a source of pride to the people of Duluth. He then turned to the subject of the liquor trade and said that he was glad to see the association on the work that it has accomplished. The effect of the liquor trade on the city of Duluth is a subject which he will not discuss. He said that he was glad to see the

JUST FOR EXCITEMENT!

As times are a little tame at present we want to create some excitement. It is no political meeting or parade or fireworks—only a trifle, only one hundred pair of PANTS which we will give away free—ABSOLUTELY FREE, without any charge—for a limited time only, as we wish to give the benefit to our patrons. With every suit sale of $20 and over we will give a pair of Pants that we always sell at $5.00, and which other tailors charge from $6.00 to $8.00, FREE.

In order that any envious competitors may not have the opportunity of branding this offer as a "fake" or "scheme" we will say that we are ambitious to increase our trade. We have been less than five months in business and have succeeded in working up a larger trade than others who have been here ten years. We employ more men at better wages than any other firm in the city. This is no idle boast. Our tailors, in order to get out our work have to work from 7 a. m. till 9 and 11 p. m., as anyone can see who passes our store during these hours, the result low prices, good goods and good workmanship.

We are still selling Suits at $16.00, equal to any $25.00 or $30.00 suit sold by any reliable tailoring firm in the city.

People's Tailoring Co.

415 W. Superior St. H. D. GREENWALD, Prop.

Remember that the above offer is only for a few days, and if you contemplate getting a Suit this fall, come and leave your order at once, to ensure your getting a pair of Pants FREE. If you don't want the Suit for a month or so, it does not matter, we will hold your order until you are ready.

The following births have been reported to the health department: A daughter to Steven and Jennie Rose, of 217 Madison avenue; a daughter to C. C. and Ada E. Blanchard, of 2338 West Michigan street. Officer McLennan arrested three men this morning in the saloon of J. ### "THE LAST DAYS."

Bryan Night Last Evening—
Tonight, McKinley.

The attendance at the "Last Days of Pompeii" last night was the best of the engagement. The usual performance was given with as much effect as ever. W. J. Bryan was shown in colored fire and his picture was received with clamorous applause. Tonight William McKinley, the Republican nominee, will be shown in fireworks, and his picture will be partially brilliant and true to life. Minnehaha Falls will also be produced in fireworks. This has been pronounced the most beautiful of the many beautiful Pain inventions. The season will positively close with tomorrow night's performance, and the beautiful city will cease to exist. Venus will be packed and shipped East to the Messrs. Pain's winter quarters.

AN EXCESSIVE PENALTY. Chicago, Sept. 18.—The interstate commerce commission today began hearing charges by Sufferin, Hunt & Co., of Decatur, Ill., against the Indiana, Decatur & Western railroad. The complaint is based on the practice of the road in imposing a penalty rate amounting to double tariff rates, on all grain in excess of the maximum weights allowed for the car load, loading in one car.

NO PARTICULAR LOSS. North Branch, N. J., Sept. 18.—United States Senator Smith publishes the announcement today that, being unable to reconcile his views with the platform of the Democratic convention, he will resign from the chairmanship of the state committee.

FLYING SQUADRON TO SAIL. London, Sept. 18.—A special dispatch received here from Rome says that Vice Admiral C. Genovese with the flying squadron, leaves for the Levant at the earliest moment possible.

UNITY

portunity before it. Here was a Democratic administration, which was being opposed by a large part of the Democratic party, and it is a much more difficult thing for a man to oppose wrong in his own party than in his opponents. Here were Democrats willing to array themselves in opposition to the policy of the president, not because they loved the president the less, but because they loved the people infinitely more. (Applause.)

"When the Republicans assembled in St. Louis if they had opposed the president's financial policy and declared they would restore the money to the constitution and the Democratic party had endorsed the administration, the Republican party would have swept the Democratic party out of existence. Bryan was escorted by the Goldsboro rifles and at the conclusion of the speaking left for Rocky Mount.

DULUTH'S NEW BISHOP.

Protestant Episcopal House of Bishops to Select Soon.

St. Paul, Sept. 18.—When the missionary jurisdiction of Duluth was carved out of the huge diocese of Minnesota by the action of the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in session in Minneapolis, it was understood that a missionary bishop would be elected as soon as the jurisdiction should be endowed to the extent of $20,000, the income of which would in part support the new bishop and cover the expense of the management of the new diocese. The $20,000 has been subscribed and will be payable on Oct. 1 and Oct. 29 the house of bishops will meet in session at St. Paul's church, Duluth, choosing a man to be the bishop of the diocese of Duluth, and also to choose a bishop for the new diocese of Asheville, N. C.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 18.—F. J. Fowler, of Stillwell, O. T., who has been in search of his runaway wife, found her in this city today and shot her and then shot himself. Both are dead.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Opening Today Dul Bull But Quite Firm.

New York, Sept. 18.—The stock market opened dull but firm with prices showing but slight change from yesterday's closing. There was a moderate movement in Manhattan which was erratic within a narrow range. Liberal purchasing orders were executed in various shares, and this was reflected in substantially higher values all around. The improvement in the industrial averages at a point, with the railways figuring for a little less. There was a marked increase in commission house business and the dealings generally up to 11 o'clock were characterized by a more confident feeling than for some time past. The prospect of further heavy gold imports, tending to relieve the mercantile situation and offset the heavy drain on local institutions incident to the crop requirements is an improving factor to the general situation and encourages demonstrations against the short interest.

The market relapsed into dullness after the first hour and prices yielded fractionally under realizing. Manhattan was conspicuously weak and sold down 1½ per cent. The extreme fluctuations in the stock market have been attended by revived rumors of impending deals, but thus far there has been no authentic news. The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad bonds displayed strength on limited dealings, with improvements at a point in the speculative market. The New York Central's exceptionally jumped to 90 as compared with 84 the last preceding sale. The market at midday was steady at the concessions noted. The sales to noon were 108,000 shares.

For quality and quantity, call at Ideal Beer hall and drink Budweiser.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING.

Probably the Son is the Guilty Party.

New York, Sept. 18.—Arnold Fleesch, of the cloak manufacturing firm of Bernard Pasternak & Co., is in the hospital with three pistol shot wounds, and his son, W. M. H. Fleesch is in custody on suspicion of having attempted to take his father's life. The shooting occurred in the apartments of the older Fleesch, in the Hotel Petcher. He is lived there alone, his wife having died three years ago. The son, who was a frequent visitor in the right wing and the left arm of the house, was in the room at 4 o'clock on the night when the shooting occurred. When the shooting occurred the older Fleesch was found, seemingly dazed by his wounds, and only able to say to those who entered him: "I guess it is about family trouble."

One pistol ball had entered his breast, near the heart; another had struck the right wrist, and the third had passed through the left forearm. As first it was thought that Fleesch had attempted suicide, but the existence of the wounds in the right wrist and the left arm upset that theory. Then it was learned that the son had been spending the night with the wounded man, and this led to the young man's arrest. After being taken to the hospital Arnold Fleesch said that he was lying on the bed with his arms folded across his breast looking at the ceiling, when some one stood over him and without warning began to shoot him. He said that he did not know who it was that fired the shots.

DYNAMITE SCARE.

Johnny Bull Takes Many Extra Precautions.

London, Sept. 18.—As a result of the alleged disclosures said to have been made by the finding of documents upon the person of Edward J. Ivory, alias Edward Bell, of New York, who has been brought to this city from Glasgow on the charge of being concerned in the dynamite conspiracy, the number of policemen on duty in plain clothes at the houses of parliament, the mansion house, the royal exchange, the national gallery, the Westminster abbey and other public buildings have been doubled. The war office has also taken additional precautions here, besides doubling the force of police and sentinels who are guarding the powder magazines at Woolwich.

SOVEREIGNS FOR MINTING.

San Francisco, Sept. 18.—The steamship Mariposa, due next week, is to bring to this city the largest shipment of sovereigns ever received here. They will be sent to the mint, accepted as 24 1/2 and at the rate of $1.85 per pound sterling. The proceeds will be used in buying wheat and other bills of exchange. It is to be a realization of a profit of over 1 per cent to the gold shippers. The Mariposa will be sent to London for collection, where all the profit of about the same amount will be made by accounting them.

TURKS WILL EXPEL FOREIGNERS.

Constantinople, Sept. 17.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The British Mediterranean squadron is expected to arrive at the island of Lemnos (island of St. Paul) tomorrow. Active preparations for sea duty are proceeding among the vessels composing the Russian Black sea squadron. An official communication prohibits meetings of foreigners and says that all foreigners who do not on the confidence of the government will be expelled.

LETTER FROM GLADSTONE.

London, Sept. 18.—A letter from Mr. Gladstone with reference to the proposed memorial to the czar has been published. In it he expresses the hope that the heart and mind of the czar may be awakened to the "fearful mischiefs" which the policy of the late Russian minister for foreign affairs, Prince Lobanoff Rostovskoy, has done so much to promote.

MORAN'S FATAL CURIOSITY.

Lancaster, N. D., Sept. 18.—Robert Moran was fatally shot here yesterday by William Mills, in whose restaurant he tried to force his way into a back room where a blind pig was alleged to be located. The affair caused great excitement as the climax to a blind pig fight that has for some time stirred up law-abiding citizens.

A COLORED TRAGEDY.

ANSWERED

Dr. Maxwell Replies to Two Republican Addresses Made Recently.

Exposes the False Reasoning of Rev. William Wilkinson.

Also Punctured the Arguments of W. N. Severance—Other Speakers.

The fact that the Republicans were having a jollification last night at Messrs. Henderson and Butternut and the Republican club's new uniforms did not interfere with the meeting of the Central Towns club. The crowd stood at the corner of Fourth Avenue until the parade went by, remarking the ugliness of many of the uniforms. When the parade had passed, the crowd gave a rousing yell each for Bryan and Towne, to show that its enthusiasm was still unimpaired, and then marched up the avenue and filled the old postoffice hall with good bimetallic cheers. The meeting was one of the largest of the campaign, and there were few vacant seats in the hall.

The club decided to challenge the McKinley and Morris club to a series of joint debates between persons to be selected by each club. A resolution to this effect introduced by S. D. Allen was carried unanimously. The resolution stated that this move is part of the campaign of education. The secretary was authorized to immediately notify McKinley and Morris club of this challenge.

Capt. J. H. Triggs called the meeting to order. S. C. Maxwell was the principal speaker, and he pretty thoroughly dissected some of the arguments of Rev. Wilkinson and W. N. Severance made at a Republican meeting Monday night. He said that he had been endeavoring to hear some arguments on the other side, but had not been able to before Monday night. To be sure, he said, he had read the crucial News Tribune, but like a person in a story, which the doctor related effectively, that paper was such a liar that he never knew when to believe it. Rev. Wilkinson was the first speaker Monday night. He said a good many honeyed words, but the doctor was suspicious of him because he spread the soft soap on too thickly.

Mr. Wilkinson said that we should have had times if Bryan was elected. He wondered if he appreciated the fact that we are having hard times now. He objected to the Chicago platform because it declared in favor of state rights. State rights used to mean that a state could override the laws of congress and leave the Union if it saw fit. That was settled during the years of congress and leave there is nothing like it in the Chicago platform. Mr. Wilkinson's argument against free trade was out of place, because it has no place in the Chicago platform, and it cannot be made an issue in this campaign.

I discovered very early that cholera, however beautiful and plausible they might be, will not do the thing to do to find a remedy for an evil and any ill will be passed. McKinley and his tariff bill will go through without free coinage, because a majority of the senators are for silver. Bimetallism will give the London Financial News in this respect. The author of this quotation has been questioned, but it has been satisfactorily established.

The doctor then read the statement by the Financial News to the effect that free silver would ruin British trade and build up American trade.

Rev. Wilkinson, in the course of a flat argument against silver, stated that prior to 1873 when silver dollars were coined, I should think a preacher would tell the whole truth, and state that including subsidiary coins about $140,000,000 in silver was coined.

W. N. Severance, the other speaker, said that four years ago we had protection, we were having good times. Now we are having hard times. He did not say so, but he left the inference that we are having free trade now. The question is what made the good times. C. K. Davis, in a speech delivered in 1890, was relating the great things done by the Republican party. Among other things he mentioned the silver bill, which, he said, had the effect of increasing prices and promoting prosperity. Silver went from 25 cents before to $1.20 after its passage. President Harrison's message to congress that year was to the same effect. I tell you, gentlemen, that that silver bill was more beneficial than any tariff bill.

Mr. Severance said there was never so much money in sight as now, and interest was never so low. You all know that the first statement was wrong. The second is true, but it is harder to pay 3 per cent now than it was to pay 10 per cent in 1873, because it takes more labor and more of the product of labor than it did then. Mr. Severance said that free coinage would be too much advantage to the silver miners. The mints are open to gold now. Isn't that a discrimination in favor of gold? We raise 10 per cent of the world's gold and 50 per cent of that world's silver, and we discriminate against our own product.

The speaker said that bimetallism is impossible. The Republican national platform of 1892 was in favor of bimetallism, and the state platforms of Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Ohio and other states were to the same effect. The Republican platform of 1896 pledges the party to further international bimetallism. According to Mr. Severance, they are declared in favor of an impossibility. When gentlemen that have lived his life statement that there was lots of sophistry and rot in this campaign.

He said that gold never appreciated, and related how, during the war, greenbacks depreciated to $2.80 a greenback in 1873. Then he dropped it. He should have said, for gold and silver and products maintain value. The friends of the laborer, he would have found that that silver and paper have been the friends of the laborer. It always was, but it was always pledged to bimetallism, and when it went back on that pledge it went back on labor.

Short addresses were made by S. D. Allen and John A. Key. Tonight a German Silver-club will be formed at headquarters in the old postoffice building.

WILL KEEP THEM AWAY.

Police Will Not Make Public the Register Sheet.

The use of a register sheet, on which are entered the names of prisoners and the offense with which they are charged, has been discontinued at police headquarters, as it has been found that it will be securely locked up in the future. The register sheet was used by the police, as stated by Mr. Force, is that the officials have been annoyed by the practice, on the part of certain attorneys, of getting the names from the register, and then rushing around in great haste on a pretense of having been sent for by some prisoner, thus getting access to the jail and an opportunity to work up a little business. The secretary cited one case that occurred within the last few days in which it had been proven that representations of the kind were false. Mr. Force says that he has been subjected to constant interruptions of this kind in his work, and that measures to stop the abuse were necessitated.

AN ISSUE

Shall the Pacific Railroad Robbery Be Permitted to Be Continued?

A Clear Explanation of the Present Status of the Question.

The Bold Attempt to Railroad
the Funding Bill Through Congress.

Washington, Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—To the people of the Pacific coast, as well as those of Minnesota, Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming and other Western states, there is an issue in the present campaign of almost equal importance as the tariff or the silver question. It is whether the men who have been robbing the government, and the people of the West through their control of the great transcontinental railroad system for the past twenty-five years shall be allowed to continue their methods for half a century to come. There is now due the United States from the Central Pacific railroad about $77,000,000 and about $20,000,000 from the Union Pacific. The bond liability given to the Central Pacific railroad company from Ogden to Sacramento, its entire length 1,111 miles, was $30,000 per mile. In addition it was given a vast amount of land comprising, if consolidated, about 14,800 square miles. The company was also permitted, by an act passed in 1864, to mortgage its road and franchise to private capitalists to the extent of another $50,000 per mile, which makes the amount due the first mortgage bondholders equal to that due the government.

Long before the date of the maturity of the bonds issued by the government for the construction of the Union and Central Pacific railroads, interested parties began manipulating congress to an extension of time of payment. Senator Davis of Minnesota was the first legislator to favor this scheme. A committee of the United States Senate of Pacific railroads drafted a funding bill, and every one that has since been governing has been drawing upon the same, with the exception that each successive one has proposed to grant more liberal terms to the railroad.

The average citizen throughout the country is not very well informed upon this subject. He has a hazy idea that Mr. Huntington and his associates own the government a large sum of money, and for some reason they are unable to pay when it becomes due, and wish to raise the cash. Mr. Huntington's debt is now estimated at about $60,000,000, and the debt of his associates is his debt seems slightly inconsistent, if he is the last. The present status of the funding bill is as follows:

There is no standing in both houses of congress what is known as the Powers-Gear funding bill, supposed to be the result of the joint effort of Senator Gear of Colorado and the Pacific railroad committee, and Chairman Powers of the Central and Union Pacific railroad committee. It is the most iniquitous measure of the kind ever presented in congress. It proposes that the government should advance the money upon the money it has loaned these roads at the rate of 6 per cent, shall be paid at the end of the next year, and the period of fifty years. This loss to the government, by the extension of the period of payment, is a matter of mathematics. It would be far better to simply make a present of every dollar they owe the government.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

August Receipts Show a Slight Decrease.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—The monthly statement of collections of internal revenue issued today shows the total receipts for the month of August to have been $1,557,074, as compared with $1,562,855 during August, 1905. For the two months of the present fiscal year the receipts were $4,234 in excess of the same period in 1905. The August receipts from the several sources of revenue together with the increase or decrease in each as compared with the same month in 1905 are given as follows: Spirits, $5,537,483; increase, $21,667; Tobacco, $2,175,553; decrease, $390,246; Permanent liquor, $2,414,506; decrease, $229,235; Osmomargarine, $60,358; decrease, $24,006; Miscellaneous, $18,167; decrease, $12,860.

For the month of July, 1906, as compared with July, 1905, the statement shows a loss of $15,713 in the receipts from whisky, a loss of $12,250 from cigars and tobacco, and a gain of $16,997 from cigars.

CUBA'S TRIUMPH.
Foreshadowed in a Letter From Gen. Collazo.

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 19.—The family of Gen. Collazo have given out for publication a letter recently received from the general, in which he has written that it is devoted to an account of a visit paid by Gen. Gomez, Gen. Collazo and others to the grave of Martí, which they solemnly marked by a monument, which was dedicated with appropriate services. Writing of the force under his direction, Gen. Collazo says that: "Our army today has a better appearance than it has had for some time. We expect 1,000 more tomorrow. A few yards from where I am writing there is a place of great military importance, cleared and leveled, and really we will have quite military appearance the day we are informed."

"Looking at the revolution from this side, every day our strength increases. The greatest activity in every direction. The battle of Santa Ana, to which I refer, has been a great victory. The importance of the enemy's loss was greater than we thought. At first they were returned to Santiago de Cuba, and the other to Guanajama, both carrying a large number of wounded. They suffered tremendous disappointment; they thought to find everything upset by the death of Gen. Collazo. They found themselves face to face with Gen. Garcia, who fought them with superior intelligence and equally as much daring.

"Two days ago we heard that there was a fighting in the city of Pinar and that Porro Rico was in an unequal condition; if this is true, Spain will have her hands full. Our triumph is drawing nearer, day by day."

FIREFIGHT IN EGYPT.
Troops of the Khalif Evacuate Khenna.

Cairo, Sept. 19.—A special dispatch from Khenna, the Derwish port on the Nile, announces that the troops of the Khalif evacuated that place when the Anglo-Egyptian forces arrived there to-day. The garrison of Khenna crossed the river and took up a position at El Hair, on the western side of the river. Under cover of the fire of the Anglo-Egyptian artillery, three of the gunboats of the expedition passed up the Nile and shelled the enemy's position. The gunboats also sank a Turkish steamer which opened fire upon them.

SMITH

Ex-Secretary Hoke Smith Talked to Georgians at Dalton Today.

All Democrats Should Stand
by the Nominations at Chicago.

He Addressed One of the Largest Audiences of the Campaign.

Dalton, Ga., Sept. 19.—Hon. Hoke Smith, ex-secretary of the interior, spoke here today at a political rally held under the auspices of the state Democratic executive committee. The ex-secretary reached Dalton yesterday afternoon and was given an informal but enthusiastic reception there last night. His address today was delivered to one of the largest audiences of the campaign and was met with frequent bursts of applause. In beginning his speech Mr. Smith referred to a former visit to Dalton two years ago, at which he spoke in behalf of "sound currency" and urged that the Democratic national platform should not approve the free coinage of silver.

Mr. Smith stated that he would not be candid did he fail to say today that he views upon the financial question remained unchanged and he regretted he could not endorse this part of the platform adopted at the Chicago convention. He urged, however, that those who, like himself, did not approve of this plank, should still remain loyal to the regular nominees of the party. He claimed that long after the financial question was settled, the Democratic party would be found advocating principles dear to the interests of the masses of the people of the country. It would be unwise to quit the party on account of opposition to a single plank in the platform. So far as those were concerned who had taken a part in the fight for "sound money," Mr. Smith said that they were practically pledged, as he was actually pledged, to vote for the nominees.

Mr. Smith then briefly discussed the portion of the Chicago platform which dealt with the subject of raising revenue. He urged the justice of a tariff for revenue only and against the protective tariff for which Mr. McKinley so prominently stood. He approved the income tax, and insisted that it was not class legislation. All the revenues received by the government came from the tariff and the income tax. The money collected from both these sources fell as a personal tax upon the citizen. Property, as well as person, caused expense to the national treasury, and the income tax was a tax upon property and would have the present system of inequalities. The ex-secretary then devoted the remainder of his speech to the support of the state ticket.

MINNESOTA ELECTORS.
Who Will Cast Their Votes For Palmer.

St. Paul, Sept. 19.—The presidential electors chosen by the National Democratic party in this state were announced yesterday as follows: First district, John Von Rohr, Winona; Second district, Anthony Schaefer, Rushmore; Third district, T. N. Simonson, Wines; Fourth district, Dr. E. Schuler, St. Paul; Fifth district, A. W. Leland, Minneapolis; Sixth district, W. B. Crosby, Duluth; Seventh district, L. M. B. Dyer, Breckenridge; At large, B. W. How, Sauk Centre; James S. O'Brien, Stillwater.

TAPT DECLINES RENOMINATION.
Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—Hon. Charles T. Tappan, member of congress from the First Ohio district, was renominated by the Republicans for another term. Tappan has been at home for some weeks, returning yesterday to his declining nomination. Mr. Tappan is editor and publisher of the Times Star, and has other large interests here, on account of which he cannot afford to give his time to service in congress.

INDIAN LEGISLATION.
Anders, I. T., Sept. 19.—The bill disfranchising the whole married citizens and the adopted freed men passed the Choctaw senate, but failed in the house. It will be amended and sent back to the senate. Both houses of the council passed a bill authorizing the governor to appoint two missionaries to go East and work among the Eastern members of congress to prevent the Curtis bill from passing.

POWDER MILLS BLOWN UP.
Springfield, Mass., Sept. 19.—Four powder mills at Hazardville, Conn., were blown up today. Lightning struck one mill and the explosion set fire to the other three. No one was killed or injured. Thousands of pans of glass were broken in the buildings of the town, and the shock was so great even at the distance of Springfield that it was supposed at first to be an earthquake.

SITTING IS HEDGING.
San Francisco, Sept. 19.—Mayor Adolph Sutro, who was elected two years ago on the Populist ticket, by an immense majority, said in an interview that he favors international bimetalism, but declines to make a statement of the United States to attempt free coinage unaided by other nations. He has not yet announced, however, which ticket he will vote.

NATIONAL BANK FAILS.
Troy, N. Y., Sept. 19.—The National bank of Troy closed its doors today and placed its affairs in the hands of the national bank examiner.

SPANISH NAVY ADDITIONS.
Madrid, Sept. 19.—The navy incurred by the Spanish government in making additions to the navy amounts to $38,000,000.

CHICAGO YACHTING.

Vencedor and Siren Contesting
in a Gale.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—The Vencedor and Siren contested this afternoon the first of a series of three races for the Lincoln Park Yacht club championship flag, now held by the Siren. Today's course was over the Columbia yacht course, starting from the gap in the breakwater off the foot of Van Buren street, around the 4-mile and Lake View crabs and return, a distance of about nine miles. Monday's race will be a straightaway course of five miles and return, and Wednesday's race, if the third is necessary, will be chosen by lot.

A time limit of three hours has been decided upon, but a strong northwest wind, almost amounting to a gale, is blowing, and the race will probably be completed in fact time. The Vencedor, which reached here yesterday after her unsuccessful contest with the crack Canadian yacht, has lost a new main sail, which is eighteen inches longer on the foot than her old one, and she looks better canvassed than when she was in Lake Erie.

DYCHE HEARD FROM.
Up in Alaska Hunting Big Horn Sheep.

Lawrence, Kas., Sept. 19.—Professor Dyche, from whom no word had been received since July 17, was heard from today in a letter dated Kink river, Cook's inlet, Alaska, Aug. 1. Dyche said he was in an Indian camp within twenty miles of some big horn sheep, of which he wanted some specimens, as there were in any museum of the world.

The explorer did not say anything about coming home, but said he expected to be out of that country before a letter from home could reach him. Whether or not he is still in search of a new route to the north pole is still a mystery.

GOLD BLUFFER CALLED.
Free Silver Champion Right on Hand.

Cedar Rapids Iowa, Sept. 19.—Hon. Robert Coustins, congressman of this district and Republican nominee for reelection, in a speech last night at Grundy Center, challenged any person to say the law of 1873 was passed by free silver, who asserted the Republican leaders denounced demonetization at the time. Kere will now answer Coustins' speech. Much interest has been aroused in the discussion throughout the district.

JEFFERSON BARRACKS.
Bad Epidemic of Fever Raging There.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 19.—As the result of an epidemic of typhoid fever at Jefferson barracks, many sick and convalescent soldiers will be left behind when the troops start, Oct. 3, on their practice march. The epidemic is not abating. This morning there were fifty-five soldiers enrolled on the sick report. Many are so ill that recovery is almost impossible. The barracks have been picked on the ground for the accommodation of the overflow.

KERMA OCCUPIED.
English Troops Have Only a Slight Brush.

London, Sept. 19.—Gen. Sir Herbert Kitchener, in command of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition to Dongola, telegraphed today from Kerma, on the Nile, to the war office, announcing that he occupied Kerma without opposition at dawn, the enemy having retired to the west bank at El Hadir. The dispatch adds that the Sir had shelled the enemy's position on the east bank and that the cover of this fire three gunboats passed up the river on the way to Dongola, sinking the enemy's steamer and inflicting heavy loss upon the Derwishes.

BISHOP MARTY DEAD.
Sudden Demise of the Eminent Roman Catholic.

Minneapolis, Sept. 19.—A special to the Journal from St. Cloud, Minn., says that Bishop Martin Marty, of the Roman Catholic diocese of St. Cloud, formerly Bishop of Sioux Falls, died suddenly this morning.

BRYAN IN MAINE.
Augusta, Me., Sept. 19.—William J. Bryan will deliver an address in Bath Sept. 20. Special trains will be run to the shipping city from parts of the Pine Tree state. He will be the guest of Arthur Sewall, candidate for vice president and will pass Sunday in Bath, at Mr. Sewall's residence.

THE MAYBRICK CASE.
London, Sept. 19.—The home secretary, Sir Matthew White Ridley, replying to a letter from Henry Seymour, secretary of the Maybrick committee, who asked the home secretary to take humane treatment to Mrs. Florence Maybrick on the same ground that it was accorded to the dynamiter Charles Reading, from imprisonment says that the reports of the condition of the convict, Maybrick, have the same consideration as the cases of other convicts.

SOME PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS.
Washington, Sept. 19.—The president has made the following appointments: Chapman L. Anderson to be United States attorney for the Northern district of Mississippi; John Ridgely Carter of Mississippi to be United States marshal at London.

RESIGNATION REJECTED.

WEST END

Cold Weather Did Not Interfere With the Silver Meeting.

S. T. Harrison Riddled Butworth's Argument With His Own Letter.

L. C. Harris Made a Strong Address in Favor of Silver.

The cold rainy weather last evening did not prevent a good meeting at the silver tent. Fine speeches were made by S. T. Harrison and L. C. Harris. The meeting was held at the silver tent, which was well attended. The speeches were well received and the meeting was a success.

Mr. Harrison took for his text the words of the prophet, "The silver tent is the house of God." He spoke of the importance of the silver issue and the need for a strong stand in its support. He riddled Butworth's argument with his own letter, showing the weakness of the opposition.

Mr. Harris made a strong address in favor of silver. He spoke of the benefits of silver to the people and the need for its use in commerce. He urged the people to stand firmly behind the silver issue.

His wife is anxious. Mrs. John Nelson, who has been living in the Fraser building on Grand avenue, reports that her husband left last Tuesday and told her that he was going fishing. He has not yet returned and his wife is getting anxious to hear what has become of him.

COMPLIMENTS DR. FORBES. The New York Christian Advocate of Sept. 13 said: "Dr. Forbes, of Duluth, Minn., who has been spending the summer in the East, has returned to the West. For the past few years he has been supplying the pulpit of First Church, Yonkers, N. Y. He has also been a member of the Holy Apostles of Duluth, Minn., and has been a member of the Yonkers Yacht Club. He is a man of great ability and has been a great success in his career."

NEW YORK STOCKS. Slightly Higher Feeling at the Opening.

NEBRASKA CROP EXHIBITS. Omaha, Neb., Sept. 19.—As an evidence of the wonderful crops Nebraska is producing, the Nebraska State Fair has been opened. The fair is a great success and has attracted a large number of visitors.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. Mr. and Mrs. William Hayward, of Lumber Park, were pleasantly surprised by about forty of their friends last evening, it being their twentieth wedding anniversary. The celebration was a great success and was enjoyed by all.

STORM SASH. In stock also estimates furnished and in stock also estimates furnished and in stock also estimates furnished.

THE PRODUCE MARKET.

Market today had a few features. Maple sugar appeared, so did a little game and nice lot of berries, and all for pickles. Supplies were fairly liberal in volume.

THE BIDS

Proposals for Building the Trunk Road to Be Opened Monday.

Smaller Contractors Do Not Want to Take Bonds in Payment.

Difference Between Cash and Bonds Will Make a Large Commission.

The board of county commissioners will hold an adjourned meeting today afternoon to receive bids for building the Miller Trunk road to the ranges. A great many contractors have been working over the plans and specifications, and it is expected that there will be about fifty bids. The call for bids requires each bidder to submit separately propositions based upon payment in cash and payment in bonds. The latter proposition is not popular, it appears. The smaller contractors find that they cannot handle the bonds, that the banks will not take them as collateral, or rather that the banks will not loan upon any collateral and they will not in bids that they know will not be accepted on the bond proposition and make them regular bids.

Some of the larger contractors have written back to firms that handle bonds, and have made arrangements by which they can sell them, so their bids on a bond basis will be only a small amount higher than their cash bids. Yet the difference will be enough to make a big commission if the bonds were sold at $100.00.

The bids are for 5-mile sections, and if they are acceptable and the work is started it will be a great help to a good many laboring men who otherwise would have little work to keep themselves and families during the winter.

The county bonds voted for the road are not yet sold with the exception of the $100.00 sold to Leland, Towle & Co. of Boston, though certain firms are supposed to be endeavoring to accomplish the sale of the remainder of the bonds. In the meantime the company has about $40,000 which may be used for the road.

TO BE HEARD TODAY. Objections to Struck Juries Will Be Considered.

A special term of the district court was held this morning with Judges Brown and Searle on the bench. Judge Engen was indisposed, but he will be able to conduct the general term work Monday.

The calendar was set, and was not important. The only matters of any moment were applications to a struck jury in four cases. They were continued to this afternoon. The juries were not regularly drawn by the sheriff, that some of those drawn friends of the parties demanding struck juries, and that some of the members of the panels are not citizens of the county. The cases in which these applications were entered were as follows: John Barton against the Victoria Light and Water company; J. H. Schall against the city of Duluth; Thomas Forberg against the Canton Iron company; and Isaac Hill against Winston Bros.

The land is in the Guntide lake district, and is supposed to be a large tract of real wealth. Miss Moss filed on the land in 1885. She was then a school teacher at Grand Rapids, Minn. She later that Downman was a settler on the land and had made extensive improvements. This was a long and tedious case, and Downman was given the land by the land officials. The land commissioner covered this, and was denied again in March, she filed a similar motion, and it was granted. The result of the case is that the secretary adheres to his former decision and Downman gets the land.

Declined the Call From a St. Paul Church.

Some weeks ago it was announced that the official board of the Central Park M. E. church, of St. Paul, had decided to invite the Rev. Robert Forbes, of Duluth, to assume the duties of pastor of that church. As then stated, the vote of the board, by which such action was taken, was not unanimous.

GERMANS ORGANIZE.

Silver Hall Formed at Post-office Hall Last Evening.

A solid Deutscher silver club was organized at the old postoffice hall last night with a large membership and lots of good German enthusiasm. The organization of the club dates from the report that P. S. Ancke was about to organize a gold club. Carl Thiel and others sent out postal cards to about 100 of the leading Germans, and over half of them responded and were at the meeting last night.

The meeting was a warm one. Joseph Grahame was made president; Carl Thiel, vice president, and John Gonska, Carl Thiel and J. J. Laumann, of West Duluth, made up the executive committee. Speeches were made by Adolph Rosenbusch, of West Duluth; W. G. Jones, Carl Thiel, Joseph Grahame and Dr. Speler. Mr. Rosenbusch made a rousing speech, in the course of which he said that they "would show the brewers that they have not the German vote in their vest pockets. At least three-fourths of the Germans are for Bryan and Sewall."

At 11 o'clock this morning the total number of names subscribed to the membership list reached 180, and the club is still increasing. May-Trusten has joined the club and says he will attend every meeting. The club has many more than 200 members, and will meet at the Towne headquarters in the old postoffice building. All Germans are invited to attend.

Will Answer Butterworth. At the Central Towne club headquarters in the old postoffice building, Tuesday evening, C. O. Baldwin will answer the arguments presented Thursday evening by Hon. Benjamin Butterworth, of Ohio.

Public Stenographer. C. R. Smith, 118 Chamber of Commerce.

Last of the Season. The whaleback steamer Christopher Columbus will make a successful season by giving an excursion next Sunday from Duluth and Superior to Bayfield and return, making a tour of the Apostle Islands. The vessel will land for an hour at Bayfield, and the management promises their best efforts in making this closing trip as pleasant and enjoyable as any of the season. The time of starting will allow the beautiful scenery of the islands to be viewed in daylight, both going and returning.

The big whaleback will leave the shipyard at Superior at 9 a. m. and Duluth at 10:30 a. m., returning about 9:30 at night. The fare is $1 for the round trip; children, one-half price, and with music and refreshments of all kinds on board, it is safe to predict that the excursion will be the event of the season.

Are Getting Very Tame. Under the benevolent protection of the state law which prevents their being killed, moose are said to be getting very plentiful in the northern woods. Vice President McBride of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern says that he saw two big ones skidding 100 feet from the track as the passenger train went by. They said no attention whatever to the train but continued in their occupation of grazing. The second moose along the line say that they see moose every day.

Solon Spring Water. The following letter of endorsement from Professor Woolman of Duluth high school will be of interest to the citizens of Duluth:

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 25, 1896. I have just completed an analysis of a sample of Solon spring water and find in every way a very pure and palatable water, and can heartily recommend it for family and office use. Yours truly, A. J. VOJMAN.

The board of education have recently made arrangements with the Solon Spring company for supplying all of the public schools from Edison to Eleventh avenue with this pure and wholesome water.

The water is not bottled for this city's supply, but delivered in bulk at the very reasonable price of 5c per gallon.

Storm Sash. Now is the time to order to avoid the rush. D. E. Holston & Co.'s office, Third avenue east and Michigan street. Phone 100, West Duluth.

Doctors in Session. The interurban academy of medicine met at the Spaulding last night, and twenty-four members from Duluth and Superior were present. After a beautiful dinner at 6:30, the doctors held a meeting, at which several learned and suggestive papers were read. Dr. S. B. Sheehan, of Superior, read a paper on "Fractures of the Skull," and Dr. Braden, of Duluth, discussed the same question. Dr. Sherwood, of Superior, read a paper on "Fractures of the Pelvis," and Dr. Braden, of Duluth, discussed the same question. Dr. Anderson, of Superior, discussed it. The doctors were disappointed in not hearing from Dr. McGowan on "Fractures of the Pelvis," owing to his unavoidable absence.

OUTLOOK

The Conditions of Trade as Found By the Commercial Agencies.

Dun Says That the Improve- ment in Business Is Only Slight.

Bradstreet Finds a Small Gain in the Volume of Sales.

There is still no distinct improvement in business, although conditions favor it. Confidence slowly rises, speculative buying of materials for future use continues, imports of gold do not cease, and the Bank of England has not tried to check them by further advance in rate as the weight of the demand now falls.

upon France. But an enormous business is held back until the future is more clear.

Maine's great majority had no such influence as many anticipated from a verdict less emphatic. To many minds nothing than an Eastern state can do in a contest represented as sectional gave sufficient assurance how the Western and Southern states may decide. In cotton hides, wool and pig iron, buying open speculative in character marks the current business. Resumption of work by a good part of the Fall river cotton mill and advances in some kinds of cotton goods, helped to raise the price of middling uplands to 8½c again, although realizing sent it down to 8½. The fall office speculative estimate, which was about 400,000 bales in error a year ago, alarmed many by naming 7,800,000 bales as the minimum, and 9,000,000 as the

The one industry showing increase in working force is the cotton manufacturing restriction of output having secured more healthy demand, for some good. Most of the mills have started or are about to start, though the uncertainty of the cotton market embarrasses generally that the average of representative quotations is 6.7 per cent higher than in the first week of August. But such improvement is seen in woolens, but the speculative buying of wools is nearly all at Boston, has raised sales to 17,715 pounds for the past three weeks against 17,133,470 last year and 24,572,200 in 1892. The maturity of large wool now is said to be the cause of selling, and does not bring those quotations.

There has been a fair week in dry goods and better demand for clothing, but the heavy failure of a Philadelphia firm tends to restrict operations.

The iron and steel manufacture is still waiting for business, with nearly half producing capacity idle, but hopefully and the speculative buying of pig iron sustain prices. Sales said to amount to 25,000 tons have been made of Alabama for shipment to England, but the home demand does not enlarge at it, and the various associations still have combination prices, though the demand is remarkably slender. The coke output is less than 50,000 tons weekly.

Failures for the past week have been 317 in the United States, against 213 last year, and 32 in Canada, against 32 last year.

WHAT BRADSTREET SAYS.
New York, Sept. 13.—Bradstreet's
day says:
The moderate improvement in trade
the past few weeks continues and is phased by further speculative purchases of wool, renewed buying by manufacturers, the reduction of sur-stocks of cotton goods, increased demand for seasonable fabrics, continued confidence among manufacturers of iron and

The volume of sales of general merchandise shows a small gain over last week and the feeling among wholesale merchants is one of more confidence in a comparatively early improvement. The expected large sales of dry goods reported from Boston, Chicago and New York indicate that the market is continue throughout the month. At more important Northwestern centers sales of hats, shoes, hardware and drugs are reported, although the total is smaller than in the like portion of last year. Much of the gain in the South is due to the rapidity with which the cotton crop is being gathered and marketed.

At San Francisco general business is somewhat improved, particularly export of barley. Trade has been stimu-

at least Washington business center in which state rains have damaged grain crops. Willamette valley, wheat raisers are selling wheat from current quotations.

Exports of wheat (flour included wheat) from both coasts of the United States this week amount to 3,566 bushels against 3,709,000 bushels a week and as compared with 2,538 bushels in the week one year ago, 3,537

The total number of business trucks throughout the United States last week is 315, which is seven more than last week, and 97 more than in the corresponding week last year. The increase

IN THE LABOR FIELD

D. S. Heimerdinger, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, is in the city and will address the Trades Assembly at a special meeting to be held Monday evening. He was to appear before the convention of the retail liquor dealers today in behalf of the cigarmakers, who are making an effort to procure the association to recommend that its members deal in blue label cigars only.

W. Lincoln is also in town. Mr. Lincoln is the Northern Pacific engineer whose presence here "on a vacation" has already been noted in The Herald. Mr. Lincoln is making in the golden hours of his "vacation" in laboring in the most self-sacrificing spirit for the good of his fellow toilers, the railroad presidents and Wall street money dealers. The honored name which he bears looks singularly out of place at the foot of a dodger inviting railroad men to meet and organize a club, of which he is temporary secretary, and H. H. Gower, the misanthropic mechanic of the St. Paul & Duluth railroad, is temporary chairman. The general traveling agent of the Wagner Sleeping Car company is also in town. The inference is that he is also on a "vacation," for he has spent almost the whole of his time preaching good in various places where men most congregate.

The electrical workers are determined that their ball shall be the event of the season. The ball will be a blaze of glory with many colored electric lights, of which there will be more than 1000. The affair will occur Oct. 3.

The union club is in search of more commodious quarters for the winter, but a location has not yet been decided.

Duluth is threatened with a return of Rankin-be "laboring man" who worked some thirteen years ago, and who now belongs to the Republican Campaign Fund Federation, of which Mark Hanna is general organizer. Mr. Debs, to go to the other extreme, may also come this fall. If it should happen that he should drop around about the time Mr. Rankin is here, the latter's remains, metaphorically speaking, would take up even less room in death than Mr. Rankin does in life.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor of The Herald: Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper to make a correction which I think is proper and just. The News Tribune in yesterday's edition gave to the public a write-up of the new fair grounds at Thirty-third avenue west, stating that the contract for the grand stand and barns and the grading were being done by the contractor, Mr. Dibble. Allow me to state that Mr. Dibble has nothing to do with the grand stand contractor. The plans were drawn by James Johnson, who is also superintendent of the building and to him and through the business integrity of N. P. Hugo it is a unique job (which Mr. Dibble cannot state). As none but union men are employed about this building, we believe credit should be shown where it belongs, and it seems as though the News Tribune, by its intemperate and untrue statement in publishing that which is entirely untrue.

A member of Union No. 361, Brother of Carpenters.

CHICAGO TRADE UNIONISTS. Before winter comes Chicago is likely to have a central labor organization of which all trades unions will be members. The Chicago Trades Union, which has been organized for some time, is now in the process of being reorganized. The new organization is being formed by the merger of the Chicago Trades Union, the Chicago Federation of Labor, and the Chicago Federation of Labor.

So long as there was unanimous opposition to this plan, the Chicago Trades Union, which has been organized for some time, is now in the process of being reorganized. The new organization is being formed by the merger of the Chicago Trades Union, the Chicago Federation of Labor, and the Chicago Federation of Labor.

These of the largest unions in the Trade and Labor assembly, through their delegates, have forwarded the new constitution of the American Federation of Labor to a petition to the Chicago Trades Union, which has been organized for some time, is now in the process of being reorganized. The new organization is being formed by the merger of the Chicago Trades Union, the Chicago Federation of Labor, and the Chicago Federation of Labor.

The request has been strengthened by the hearty endorsement of every Federation of Labor in the city, and the Chicago Trades Union, which has been organized for some time, is now in the process of being reorganized. The new organization is being formed by the merger of the Chicago Trades Union, the Chicago Federation of Labor, and the Chicago Federation of Labor.

When the request was made to the Chicago Trades Union, which has been organized for some time, is now in the process of being reorganized. The new organization is being formed by the merger of the Chicago Trades Union, the Chicago Federation of Labor, and the Chicago Federation of Labor.

The American Federation of Labor receives a per capita tax from the Trade and Labor assembly, which consists wholly of Federation unions. It receives no per capita tax from the Labor congress, which includes many important unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. And it receives no per capita tax from the many unions outside of the two central bodies which will have nothing to do with them, but which will take up and form an important part of the labor movement.

But the greatest consideration is the restoration of harmony in the Chicago labor movement. Mr. Gower has placed himself on record as anxious for unity, and he has been successful in bringing about through conferences and correspondence. In placing the means in his hands of creating this end the movers for the reorganized body felt that its fulfillment is not far from being accomplished.

President Gompers did not disappoint them. Immediately after the meeting he sent out a call for a meeting of the national committee of the American Federation of Labor, to be held in Indianapolis, Oct. 12. The subject of the formation of a new and great labor union organization in Chicago was the main theme of the meeting.

With the early prospect of having a central organization that will be devoted to the interests of labor alone, the reputable trades unions of Chicago are rejoicing. Two propositions which have been made to organized labor have been rejected in the past few weeks—none of which has been

NINETY AND NINE.

Sankey's Famous Hymn Was an Inspiration.

At a great gathering recently in Denver, Colo., Ira W. Sankey, before singing "The Ninety and Nine," which hymn has brought him the most fame, gave an account of its birth, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Leaving Glasgow for Edinburgh with Mr. Moody he stopped at a new stand and bought a religious penny paper. Glancing over it as they rode on the cars his eyes fell upon a hymn by Moody. He said: "I found my hymn."

Mr. Moody was busy and could not hear a word. Mr. Sankey did not sing the hymn at a time for the verses, but he had the third thought was, "One day that had an unusually impressive meeting in Edinburgh, in which I heard him speak with great effect on the subject of the 'Ninety and Nine.'"

At first he could think of nothing but the twenty and nine. He took a long train, sung so often that second thought was, "One day that had an unusually impressive meeting in Edinburgh, in which I heard him speak with great effect on the subject of the 'Ninety and Nine.'"

He finished the first verse and found it was a long train, sung so often that second thought was, "One day that had an unusually impressive meeting in Edinburgh, in which I heard him speak with great effect on the subject of the 'Ninety and Nine.'"

Mistress and Maid

both have their part in the great savings that come from Pearlina. Suppose you're the mistress.

There's the economy of it—the saving of time, etc., and the actual money that's saved by doing away with that steady wear and tear on everything washed. Suppose you're the maid. There's the saving of labor; the absence of rubbing; the hardest part of the housework made easier and pleasanter.

But suppose you are mistress and maid, both in one, doing your own work. Then there is certainly twice as much reason why you should do every bit of your washing and cleaning with Pearlina.

NOTICE

No sooner is the problem regarding the lawn, muslin and lace for summer wear solved satisfactorily than the mind of woman is obliged to turn to more sober thoughts of serge and corded silks and other heavier materials for autumn wear, says the New York Sun. But if the thing must be done, there is consolation in knowing that the new designs are certainly very original. Covert coatings and fine-faced cloths, unless for dress occasions, are used mostly in the fall wraps. They come in many shades of tan and dark shades of green and blue. One of the most useful and fashionable garments for the fall is a long coat or skirt. One made of tan cheviot has loose fronts which make it easy to draw on. It has a belt of leather which holds the folds in place and is fastened with metal buttons. Velvet forms the collar and cuffs, with the edge of the cloth showing about the edge. The collar may be turned up or down.

Velvets will be very much worn and will be made more or less for dress by the cut of the body of the coat. For a late sea voyage, instead of the velvet, a big cape, to be used with a rug of the same material, is desirable. One is shown made of reversible tweed in black-and-white check, with an over-check of red, and showing on the reverse of the garment brown, green and red. This cape was cut full and long below the waist. The collar was faced with black velvet showing a broad edge of the tweed. The rug was finished with a broad silk band of dark red with rows of stitching. This combination not only furnishes a stylish traveling outfit, but is wonderfully convenient as well.

DRIVING COATS.
Coats for driving should have a perfect and easy fit. Ornament should be avoided. This is seen in the following sketch of a light tan coat. The full, cape-like sleeves are lined with silk of the same shade. The coat is double-breasted and fastened with two rows of smoked pearl buttons. The Panama hat worn with this coat is trimmed with brown ribbon and brown and white quills.

A pretty close-fitting ulster is of rich dark blue. This stylish garment is trimmed all about the high standing collar, down each front, and about the cuffs and pockets with a broad black braid. Above the wrists and below the pocket openings are braided designs to match the frogs that fasten the coat closely about the figure. The blue felt hat is trimmed with a full soft roll of blue silk, just a trifle lighter than the coat, and is finished with a bunch of soft loops at one side.

Another long coat is of hunter's green, with all the seams strapped. This coat is fastened closely at the throat with three little green buttons and is then blind buttoned to below the waist, where the skirt of the coat is fastened over with a loop and two buttons on the left side. A little filmy lace jacket shows itself just below the outstanding collar.

SACQUE COATS.
Sacque coats are to be the dressy wraps for the fall. They are made of velvet or rich peau de soie. One of dark brown velvet, lined with silk of the same color, had a collar of white satin and bands embroidered with jet, and the neck was filled in with white chiffon.

NEW FALL DESIGN.

Braiding and embroidery will be used very extensively this fall and winter, both on coats and on skirts.

A very pretty girdling costume is of brown cloth very closely plaided with white and lighter brown. The cape matches the skirt, but the fancy revers continue around the bottom of the coat and form pockets. The waistcoat is of knitted brown and white wool, fitting very closely over a white linen shirt, and a four-in-hand tie of brown satin is worn. The brown hat has a band about it to match the coat and a brown and white wing at the side. The girdle is of the Holland and doeklin gloves stitched with brown are worn.

EARLY FALL HATS.
The early fall hats have rather a severe aspect when compared with the fluffy, beflowered hats of summer, but they give the wearer a very distinguished appearance. Bonnets for elaborate occasions are airy, indeed, being made almost entirely of gatheredulle or lace and jet and trimmed with dark velvet and jet of flowers or feathers. Some of these tiny affairs have a full asprey point uplight at the back. The wings are green oars and bunches of great white are showing themselves among the trimmings of the fall millinery, in preparation to the bright red cherries and cranberries that have been introduced for the decoration of fall hats.

Here is a pretty group which is very plainly trimmed. A low-crowned, black-brimmed hat is of fine black velvet. The curling cock plumes are black and white and the ribbon is of heavy white corded silk, the loops mingling with the feathers. A high-crowned one, with the brim rolling up slowly to the crown, is of coarse brown straw. The brim and trimming are of brown velvet, with one bright yellow quill. A third hat has a cream straw crown with a coarse black straw brim, and has for ornament a band and large bow of narrow black satin ribbon, holding in place cream-colored quills.

Another novel design is for a cycling cap. It is of French felt in fawn color, and has no trimming save the two quills standing up perfectly straight at the sides. Another is of rough straw, and has for trimming just a soft wrinkled band of silk and silk quills, three placed at either end of the crown at the back.

A TRAVELING HAT.
A pretty traveling hat is of brown felt, trimmed very simply with bright tan ribbon. The edge is bound with the tan ribbon, and a band of the same ribbon encircles the crown. The wings at the side are a mixture of brown and tan. Another hat is of a very broad-brimmed, low-crowned sailor, with a band and fall bow of ribbon to match the coarse straw, which is of a bright bronze color.

There is a marked change in the skirts. They are much less full about the bottom and fuller at the waist at the back. Braiding about the bottoms of the cloth walking skirts will be very much used. Some skirts will have perforated designs, showing the contrasting color of the silken lining, and some will have a flat band of a darker color laid plainly on the bottom and headed with a narrow braided design. The sleeves are not so full nor so high on the shoulders, but are still far from the tight sleeves promised for this fall. The bodices are some of them made double-breasted. For dress occasions the Louis XVI coat will be very much worn by matrons with good figures. One of handsome brocade or broche silk can be worn equally well with a black or a colored silk skirt.

A STYLISH DRESS.
A stylish cloth dress is made of a very fine green and blue check. The jacket is cut much longer than and without any of the frilled effect of the spring garments, and has but slight fullness in the back, and this laid in flat pleats. The coat bodice is outlined down the front and about the broad collar with blue and gold cord and opens on a vest of cream white silk. The hat is of a bright coarse straw with a sailor brim and the popular high crown, and is trimmed with a fitted band of blue velvet, with loops of velvet and green and blue quills. The same dress is very pretty when made of linen in blue of the real butcher tone, with the skirt trimmed with a raised design in white, and the long bow opening over a tucked white linen shirt and with a white tie, and the same shaped hat trimmed in white.

Another fancy shows a spot silk in maize and mauve tones. It is made with a ruche of Valenciennes lace around the bottom of the skirt. The low-cut, light-fitting bodice opens in front to the waist and has a vest of mousseline de soie.

of the maize tone of silk. This bodice is edged with a tiny ruche of the Valenciennes lace. The light sleeves, with small full puffs at the shoulder, are of taffeta silk, while the sash and stock, as well as the ribbons tied about the cuffs, are of the mauve shade of the changeable silk. The broad-brimmed, high-crowned hat is trimmed with a broad band of black velvet and ecru tips, showing all the colors of the gown.

DIFFERENCE IN SLEEVES.
The styles for sleeves are legion, but a few are given which are being used extensively at present. One sleeve is gathered tight to the shoulder and finished with three full flounces, each tight sleeve, with one large pleated flounce, is pretty for heavy goods. A chain of tulle is used to hold the flounce in place. The puff is made of the muslin and inserted into the sleeve with the small puff caught in at the top of the shoulder. The puff is made of the muslin and inserted into the sleeve with the small puff caught in at the top of the shoulder. The puff is made of the muslin and inserted into the sleeve with the small puff caught in at the top of the shoulder.

The evening or dinner gowns are very pretty and simple. The skirt is of white satin with wide flat folds in front and godets at the back. The bodice of mousseline de soie has the long ecru tips, and the parent sleeves gathered to the wrists, where a deep fall of lace covers the hands. The broad sash and bows are of white satin ribbon, and the ends fall to the bottom of the skirt.

Another delicate costume is of pink place silk shot with gold, giving the effect of the most dainty tea-rose tone. The full round skirt has a tiny ecru edge about the bottom of embroidery, and the crinkled, tight-fitting sleeves are mounted with full frills of pleated mousseline de soie. The tight-fitting bodice with the long square tabs that and below the waist is richly embroidered in the two tones of the silk. The square neck is filled in with white lace, and the neck finished with a full stock of the silk.

ALL STYLES OF HATS.

People Can Wear About What They Please.

In the matter of winter hats one may wear what she pleases and still be in style. Picture hats will be as fashionable as toques; small bonnets will be as much in demand as either. You may trim them any way your taste suggests, high or low, broad or narrow, says the Chicago Chronicle. A vast to the millinery shops impresses one first and foremost with a sense of latitude rare in the domain of fashion. A field so wide is presented that many a woman might fancy she could pass off last year's hat for this season's fall hat.

Just touched up with the least bit in the world, for this year's latest importation. In line of man's veneration, in its dimensions, as heavily bebordered and beaded and feathered, will make the highest bid for favor. It acts as a background for the thin face, it is a balance for the fat one. There are certain ruffled, fluffy costumes just suggestive of the picturesque that are not complete without it.

The winter lighorn, so called from its unsifted, jeweled soft brim, that is allowed to flop at will, is perhaps the chief novelty of this year's picture hat. One of the most tasteful of these has a brim of black moire silk, with a crown of black velvet and half a dozen black feathers grouped with artistic carelessness at one side. Picture hats this season will be more rakish than ever, for they must be balanced just over the right ear. No fashionable woman will allow a big hat to be set straight on her head. This effect is rendered all the more pronounced by the style of trimming which tends to turn all these hats upon one side.

A REJANE HAT.
A Rejane hat of enormous felt, a color peculiarly suited to the red hair and clear skin of the fascinating French actress, has double rows of soft cream velvet flowers around the crown, the large unsifted brim is turned up on one side with an enormous feather curl and a bunch of emerald feathers curl trimmings for the sugar-loaf crown is seen in the straight velvet band, which is surrounded by the straight velvet of the narrow pleated chiffon. A black rosie appears to be just thrown on the brim, and the crown is surrounded by the straight velvet of the narrow pleated chiffon.

Black trimmings have been revived again with great force, and the use of the narrow black velvet ribbon is becoming more popular every day. Rows and rows of it are seen on the newest gowns, the favors of long ago are quarantined in an inch, and it is put on by sewing only one edge, leaving the other free. This certainly gives a very different look, which, when it is sewed on both edges, very often made it look like braid. It seems in it it is used in a muslin gown, but on pale pink muslin, or, indeed, on any of the delicate colors, it is much used on the flounces and fullnesses. Black satin is used to make the folded black and bodice-shaped belts, which when they are becoming, are extremely so, and when unbecoming should be avoided.

Straps from the shoulders to the bust are often put on in black satin. They are finished with a button on the shoulder and a fall of lace, and, though it is an odd caprice, it is one that finds favor. The ugly fashion of long ago, as seen, but as yet has not become arbitrary, and that is trimming the skirts with bands of black velvet or black ribbon put on in clusters and at stated intervals. This cuts the figure in about as ugly a way as can well be devised, and should only be attempted by tall, slender women. Jet is again used on some of the black gowns; also on the white ones, but jetted and jet ornaments are used in preference to passementerie, though that is not positively tabooed. As trimming, it is always effective and becoming, and never goes entirely out of fashion. The kind used at present is of cut jet, which is the most brilliant.

VALUE OF REMNANTS.
Wise women are abroad these days in pursuit of the remnant. It is at its best at this season, and the best designed for immediate use it may, like many other early fall products, be preserved against future needs. All sorts of summer silks are to be found in short lengths. There are China and India silks, figured and plain. There are short pieces of ribbon—not so scanty, according to the buyer's notion, but too small to be doled out by the yard at the stores. There are odds and ends in embroidery, fine lawns, velvets and the like. The uses of the remnant are practically boundless in these good days, when every costume is a sort of patchwork. The thin silks make charming negligees, some of the longer pieces being quite large enough for tea gowns, while the shorter ones are admirably adapted to make the matinee and bedroom jackets. The delicately figured lawns and organdies, which are to be had for a merely nominal price now—days, may also be made into dressing sacques and wrappers for next summer.

A DINNER BODICE.
A short length in satin, a remnant of lace or chiffon and a remnant of ribbon may be combined into a most fetching dinner bodice, to be worn with a black satin or broad skirt. The ribbon may be wound about the waist in the broad corset style now in vogue and tied high on one side. The lace may be draped across the shoulders. If the bodice is low, or used for casual wear, be both. Short pieces of tulle and chiffon are always useful for the narrow waistcoats, which even the tailor-made girl wears under her serge and cheviot coats. Tulle bows, by the way, are beginning to displace the sternly masculine tie, even with linen collars, and the effect is rather pretty, even in its incongruity. The cape offers another wide field for the utilization of remnants. Not only may the velvet, cloth or silk composing it be a "short length," sold at a most attractive reduction in price, but the broadened lining and the fur or feather trimming may also be bargains snatched from a remnant counter.

EUROPEAN POINT LACE.
Among the many varieties of lace handed down from past generations to be the wonder and admiration of the present one the point lace of Italy and Spain, the "punto in aria" and "punto tagliato a follia," worked entirely by the needle, are perhaps the most interesting of all, not only for the exquisite beauty of their workmanship, but from the important part these handsome laces played in the male as well as the female costumes of the period, and the charm thereby added to the contemporary portraits of distinguished characters. These laces are all worked upon the same principle—that is, the design is traced upon a piece of paper lined with linen or kid, lightly covered and a thread is laid down and around the outline and wherever required to emphasize the pattern.

The thread must be guided by the left hand and fixed in position by minute stitches worked across it, great care being taken not to pierce the left-hand thread, as when the work is completed these small stitches are cut away at the back and the lace is thus easily detached from the foundation upon which it has been worked. The thread outlines being carefully completed, the next proceeding is to cover them with a row of fine buttonhole stitches, and then to fill in the several portions of the pattern stitches with several rows of buttonhole or any other suitable filling stitches. Finally, the bars connecting the solid portion of the lace are added. These are formed of threads overcast with buttonhole stitching and ornamented, as a rule, with little loops, or, as they are generally termed, plops.

The thread must be of the finest flax and the needle exceptionally fine. All the opaque portions of the design are worked in close button stitch; those which are, as the French term it, a jour, are mostly in double Brussels stitch. This is formed by working a little open loop stitch and then two close button stitches; commence from the left to right and in working back insert two close stitches in the loop and repeat this, forming a very diminutive chessboard pattern. The cross bars in the main stem are also buttonhole, and when the fillings show variety these are merely variations of the point de Bruxelles.

POINT STOUT PERSONS.
If you are stout avoid checks as you would avoid the plague. If you are stout do not let the most seductive bar gains in stripes, the most persuasive cryer among modistes induce you to wear a gown with horizontal lines. On these two commandments hang a lesson, half your hopes of beauty. If you are stout shun the primary colors. Nothing makes a woman of partly proportions look quite so gigantic, quite so hopelessly heaving as reds, clear violets and orange hues. There are colors which can be used effectively only in small quantities. Let white and cream color severely alone. They may make you look statuesque, but statues require a gallery for a background and are out of place in a modest home. Tight-fitting gowns merely accentuate your defects. You begin to suggest scorchings, strangulations and other unpleasant conditions. Superabundance of curves may be hidden beneath kindly folds and beneficent fluffiness. They are only made the more conspicuous by attempts to reduce them by main force and corset steel.

The corset of the stout woman is something to which she should give great attention. Only the "low" ones should be worn. High ones, which crowd the bust into the neck, so that chin and neck meet, are the ones to which most fat women fly with a fatuous blindness. Skirt trimmings, which take from the apparent height, are also to be avoided. Broad belts, which decrease the effect of length, are also among the tabooed articles. The stout woman must, whenever it is possible, wear belts of the same color as her bodice or her skirt. The former adds to her waist length and the latter to her length of limb. Belts which are slightly curved over the hips and pointed in the back and front are among those which she can wear with excellent effect.

The high collar should be another of the stout woman's aversions. She frequently has a pretty neck, as one of the small compensations granted by providence for an ugly figure, but the high collar hides and spoils it. The high collar is particularly intended for her; so were the falling over lace frill and the rather narrow ribbon bands. Fluffy, feather and lace boas belong to her only when they are long and when instead of coming under the chin they fall in long lines down the front of the gown on either side. In short, the stout woman's sartorial salvation lies in a conscientious adherence to the "long line" principle. Whether they are stripes woven in the material or folds laid by the dressmaker, they are her only means of giving the effect of graceful height.

LI HUNG CHANG.
The Famous Chinaman Has Started a Fashion.
Li Hung Chang has invented a new fashion. But he didn't do it intentionally. It is the necessity of the garment for women, but when the society maid and marion are told how bewitching they look in it they have not so much the distinguished Li to thank as a certain Parisian couturiere, says the New York Journal.

When Li was in Paris of course he wore his fa-famed yellow jacket. His much-prized three-eyed peacock feathers were also in evidence, and after Li's departure from the French capital Worth showed to a few of his favored customers the most unique Parisian novelty of the hour—the Li Hung Chang tea jacket. It is modelled after Li's own outfit.

Detroit Tribune. "Say not that we are bel," she exclaimed. "There is yet hope. Yonder assassin has to sing high C as he strikes us dead, and he may swallow his palate." There were obvious advantages to being heroine in opera over being heroine in some other old thing.

LI HUNG CHANG.

The Famous Chinaman Has Started a Fashion.

Li Hung Chang has invented a new fashion. But he didn't do it intentionally. It is the necessity of the garment for women, but when the society maid and marion are told how bewitching they look in it they have not so much the distinguished Li to thank as a certain Parisian couturiere, says the New York Journal.

When Li was in Paris of course he wore his fa-famed yellow jacket. His much-prized three-eyed peacock feathers were also in evidence, and after Li's departure from the French capital Worth showed to a few of his favored customers the most unique Parisian novelty of the hour—the Li Hung Chang tea jacket. It is modelled after Li's own outfit.

"Tips" about Overcoats.

To know how to buy is a great thing; to know what to buy is a greater thing; but to know when and how to sell is a still greater thing. Only a thorough knowledge of the business, knowing and constantly learning the wants of patrons by personal contact and being in closest touch with the popular tastes and styles, can make a business successful.

The attention of those who desire to dress well, without extravagance, is called to this cut. It is reproduced to give an exact idea of the garment we carry. To interest you, all that is necessary is to call attention to the following points: These Coats are made from Meltons and Kerseys, heavy in texture, making them suitable for this climate; made up in splendid style, many of them full silk-lined. These Coats take the place of the light and medium-weight Overcoats, and can be worn up to the time when the Ulster will take its place. Some wear them through the entire winter, and are really in advance, in every particular, of the ordinary merchant tailoring; exclusively our own patterns and cannot be bought elsewhere.

Prices Range $15, $18, $20, $25

The price is regulated by the difference in the quality of material and quality of trimmings. The style is exactly the same throughout.

shot." Judge Olson warned Carlson not to get loaded again and let him go with a suspended sentence.

The municipal court calendar was called this morning. There were eleven jury and eleven court cases for trial. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred, 2306 Koepke, 225 East Fifth street, yesterday, there was a happy party. It was the celebration of their silver wedding. Fifty couples assembled at their home, and congratulations were extended, after which a bounteous supper was served. Music, singing and dancing were indulged in. Many elegant presents were received.

L. O. Ogard has been appointed United States court commissioner at Koochiching. This was done on the recommendation of the register and receiver of the United States land office. ### Two Happy Children.

Two birthdays are being celebrated today which occasion the happiness of two Duluth families for twenty-four hours at least. Jay C. Condon's boy, Master Eddie, a student at the high school, his 14 years old, Jessie, the 12-year-old daughter of Charles D. Campbell, also has a birthday, and there has been an exchange of presents in consequence. Master Eddie Condon, as a result of the fact that he was born four years ago today, is now enabled to slaughter all of the parties within a radius of five miles of Lester Park with a brand new rifle, a present from his daddy Jay. Jessie Campbell is equally happy with the Lester Park boy, for she now wears a diamond ring, the birthday present of her estimable papa, Charles D. Campbell.

WILL BE RESUMED.

Operations at Lakewood Will Begin Again.

The council will, undoubtedly, this evening, take steps to make the wheels go around again at Lakewood. The proceeds of the first $200,000 of bonds has been placed to the credit of the city at the First National bank here and it only remains to press the button. The sentiment of the aldermen generally is that the work should be done by day labor and that plan will probably be followed.

The members of the council feel that bona fide residents of Duluth should have the preference in the distribution of jobs and a resolution to that end will be introduced by Alderman Harker this evening. The resolution will provide that the applications must state the place of residence, the length of time the applicant has resided in Duluth and, possibly, other data that will enable the council to determine the eligibility of the applicant to be employed. Those having other dependents upon them it is designed to give the first choice.

"Our aim will be to keep every dollar of this money in Duluth as possible," said a member of the council today. The advisability of creating a special commission of three members of the council who shall have sole charge of the work was discussed during the day and it is possible that such a commission will be appointed, should authority for it be found in the charter. The board of public works would then be relieved of the necessity of carrying this burden in addition to its other duties.

The city hall was besieged today with a crowd of applicants for work on the plant and undoubtedly enough men could be raised at an hour's notice to carry on a work of ten times the magnitude.

HAS NOT DECIDED.

Collector Olund Does Not Know How to Cut Expenses.

Collector of Customs Olund has not yet decided in what manner the reduction of $2000 in the expenses of his office is to be made, but he expects to hear from Washington in a day or two. It will not be by reduction of salaries, because Mr. Olund believes that to place the salaries of the expert accountants in that office on the same basis as those of the assistant janitors would cripple the service for all time to come. If the reduction must be made, it will be by reducing the number of employees, and it is probable that the office will not be able to perform its work with such a reduction in the force, which is now fairly adequate to the increased amount of business, it is said.

Will Visit Duluth.

The members of the state board of equalization will visit Duluth tomorrow, coming up from St. Paul. They have been induced to do this by Mr. Gooley. Only two members of the board, it is said, had ever seen the city of Duluth and it will probably be beneficial to both themselves and the city if they know and appreciate the situation and conditions here. It has been arranged to give them a ride for the purpose of exhibiting the harbor front, and the extent of commerce here, and also a ride over the boulevard.

TO STAND

Judge Brown Holds the Struck Juries to Be Regular.

Decides That Sheriff Butchart Followed the Law in Drawing Them.

Dispute Over Endorsement on a Note Which Was Negotiated.

The struck juries drawn by Sheriff Butchart for the November term of District court are all right, says Judge Brown. At least he will say so by tomorrow, for he has instructed the attorneys for the defendants in the struck jury cases to draw up findings to that effect.

In different cases there were different objections to the juries, but in all cases, one of the objections was that Sheriff Butchart should draw the juries himself and not delegate the duty to his deputies. The sheriff said he had drawn them and the defendants' attorneys claimed that it was not necessary for him to do all the clerical work in connection with the drawing so long as he exercised his judgment in the selection of the juries.

Judge Brown holds that to be the case, and the struck juries will be suffered to stand as they are.

Judge Brown and Judge Ensign were alone in the district court this morning, Judge Ensign having gone to Moorhead to hold a term of court there. Judge Brown took up the case of Henry H. Ripley against the Duluth Board of Trade to recover $3500 on two promissory notes made by Augustus and Edward Black to the Board of Trade and endorsed to Ripley by O. C. Hartman, president, and G. E. Waller, secretary. The notes are unpaid, and the holder sues the endorsers for recovery. The notes are said to be endorsed unconditionally, the words "without recourse" being scratched from the notes.

The contention of the board is that the words were not scratched off when the notes were endorsed, and the plaintiff claims that they were and that that was the condition under which the sale of the notes was made. O. C. Hartman testified that the words were scratched off when he signed the endorsement, and a deposition from Col. Waller to the same effect was made. Walter Van Brunt, who sold the notes to Ripley, testified that he scratched the words "without recourse" off. He said that Ripley would not accept the notes otherwise, and he went out on the board and explained it to Waller. He said that he was all right and Van Brunt returned and scratched the words off. Then Mr. Hartman and Col. Waller signed the endorsement. Members of the board of directors and the finance committee are also on the stand, testifying that no authority was ever given by the board for Van Brunt's action, and that the question of recourse never came before them. The case was still on trial at noon.

Judge Ensign this morning was hearing the criminal case against Herman Herling, a Finlander, who is accused of assaulting another Finn in a Lake Avenue saloon. There are twelve or fifteen more criminal cases to be tried.

The following court jury cases are on call to be disposed of as soon as possible: 142, 150, 159, 22, 99. This finishes the jury calendar with the exception of the struck jury cases, which are not set for days certain. The following call of court cases has been posted:

Wednesday—2, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 17, 18, 22.

Thursday—30, 41, 43, 44, 45, 46, 126, 48, 51, 52.

Friday—56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 67, 68.
